STOLE AND FLED.

When Arrested Barton Had None of the Spoils on His Person.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, April 30.—The police here have under arrest, Clarence Barton, twenty-one years old, accused of stealing $5,200 from the Utah Loan & Trust Company of Ogden, Utah.

He will be held pending the arrival of requisition papers.

Barton left Ogden and went to Jacksonville, Florida, where he spent money lavishly. He paid a $800 mortgage on the house kept by Belle Olive, alias "Russian Belle" then married her daughter, known as the "Wanderer." Barton and his wife came to this city in March.

He had no money when arrested, but had a lot of pawn tickets for diamonds and jewelry.

Mrs. Barton was ill in bed. Barton himself claimed to be suffering from appendicitis.

Barton says he is not alone in the commission of the crime but had a companion named Lee Grives. He accuses Chief of Police Davenport of Ogden, of trying to shield Graves, who got hold of the money.

In the court today, Chief Davenport told the Magistrate that heretofore Barton has born a good character, and had never been accused of any crime.

He said further that he thought there was nothing in the present charge against Barton.

Barton asked to be committed to Bellevue Hospital, as he is sick. The request was granted.

RACING MEN AT OUTS.

Trouble About the Extension of the Present Season.

THE INGLESIDE MEN OBJECT

No More Ladies' Days Will Be Given at the Track.

THE PLAN DID NOT PAY

A Steeple-Chase Course to Be Established at Ingleside.

There is the possibility of a wrangle between the racing association conducting the Ingleside and Oakland tracks and its development might prove serious enough to bring about an open rupture.

Soon after the old Bay District track was abolished in San Francisco the racing promoters split into two sections. One with Tom Williams at the head and Col. Dan Burns, Gunst and Ache a sthe principal backers came to Oakland and established itself at the Emeryville track under the title of the California Jockey Club while the other consisting of Spreckels, Corrigan, Schrieber and other Eastern men plied at Ingleside, as the Pacific Coast Jockey Club.

There was never any open competition between the two organizations. The men comprising the directorates were too shrewd to commit business suicide by trying to divide up the different racing stables that were headed for the coast. They knew that the association offering the biggest purses would get the best horses and consequently the best racing and the most patronage and this, therefore, meant that they would have to bid against each other and probably pay ruinous figures. Then again this sort of competition would divide the racing-inclined public and altogether the probabilities of an unsatisfactory nature were so many that competition was impossible.

They therefore agreed on the basis that has been in vogue all the season. The jockey clubs alternated with two weeks racing each and in this way they have been able to offer a uniform rate of purses and average about the same amount of business. Of course the huge investment of capital in the race track and its appointments has had to lay idle half the time on each side of the bay but this could not be helped.

The agreement entered into by the two clubs called for a termination of the season on May 15th. Under this arrangement there would be no more racing at Ingleside after this week and the coming two weeks at Oakland would wind up everything until the 15th of next October, when the new season starts up.

A petition has been in circulation though among the horsemen asking that the present season be extended for another month thus giving two weeks additional at Ingleside and two at Oakland. This is where the trouble comes in.

The managers of the Oakland track are not only willing to have the two extra week but are desirous of holding it. In fact it was semi-officially announced that the racing would last at Oakland all through May and many have been figuring on that basis.

The Ingleside people though have now stepped in with a serious objection. They say that a continuation of the racing in Oakland will be a violation of the agreement even if the additional races are to come after the close of the season. The Eastern racing men are in control of the Ingleside track and as they desire to get all the horses and bookmakers East as soon as possible they do not want them kept on the coast. Corrigan for instance owns many shares in tracks at Chicago and other courses over the divide so he is not in favor of a scheme that would keep the betting men on the coast especially as during half the time proposed in the extension they will be in Oakland.

Whether or not this difference of opinion will result in an actual outbreak between the two organizations is hard to say. The chances are that it will not, for in addition to the causes that induced them to compromise with each other before the season started is now the probability that Adolph Spreckels will start a new track. Just how they will dispose of the present grievances is not apparent, though and the next two weeks will be of unusual interest in racing circles for the matter must be decided, one way or the other, during that time.

A BLOW FOR LADIES.

There will be no more Ladies Days and the enormous throng that attended the customary Wednesday courtesy at Ingleside this week, little thought that they were participating in the last event of the kind that will be held on the coast.

The Oakland track people never did give any Ladies Days anyhow and the Ingleside directors will abolish them with this season. The idea of allowing the fair sex to enter free every Wednesday originated with Sam Leake who was secretary of the Ingleside track during the Spreckels administration. He thought that such an arrangement would do much to popularize the track and furthermore would be a boon to the concessionaires.

Of the popularity of the move there can be no question. Every Wednesday has seen the grand stand at Ingleside packed and jammed with thousands of women and the boys who ply between the stand and the betting ring have been almost unable to handle the business. That woman is a born gambler was proved long ago but only those who have been around race tracks know to what extremes they will go to tempt fortune at Ingleside. Bets as high as $500 at a time have come from the woman's gallery and scarcely a feminine visitor young or old, came to the track on Wednesdays without making a wager of some description. In some cases, driven to desperation by losing, they have sent diamond rings and earnings to the book makers as pledges for their bets and once losers they would stay at the game even though they had to rob their houses of actual necessaries.

Now outside of the deplorable moral aspect of this sort of thing the Ladies Days at Ingleside have not been a success from a financial point of view as far as the Association has been concerned. The money spent by the free visitors all went to the bookmakers and concessionaires who thus revelled in the extra patronage bestowed upon them.

But the worst of it has been the actual loss sustained by the Association. There are between 300 and 400 daily female patrons of the track and as of course they went in free every Wednesday, it meant a loss that day of $300 or $400. Furthermore many women who would otherwise have gone to the track during the week and paid at the gates, waited until Wednesday so as to get in free and thus cut off another source of income.

The Ingleside people would have revoked the Ladies Days immediately after the passing of the Spreckels administration but for the fear of hurting the popularity of the track at that time. It was therefore decided to let the season run out on the old basis and abolish the privilege when the next year's racing begins.

A STEEPLE-CHASE COURSE.

Next season a novelty in racing in California will be given. The inner ground at the Ingleside track is to be converted into a steeple-chase course of the most approved plans.

There will be an up hill and down dale, real water jump, brush fences and all the other accessories of a cross-country ride. The lay of the land is admirably adapted for the purpose and a couple of thousand dollars spent in grading will be the principal expense.

A steeple-chase will be a great attraction. It furnishes the most exciting sport imaginable and as it is not so dangerous as hurdle-jumping on the flat will be all the more enjoyable. In England a "steeple" always constitutes one of the events of the season, and those who have witnessed the popularity of the sport there are confident that it will take a hold in California.

THE SUMMER SEASON.

The talk of a summer racing season here is dying out. Very little encouragement has been given to the project, and although San Rafael has been mentioned as a probable location for the track, there is no evidence of the plan being carried out. If an attempt should be made to do so the Oakland track people would start summer races so as to kill off the competition.

ARRESTED FOR PERJURY

Dr. J. B. McIntosh Placed In Custody by Judge Cook.

A SENSATION AT FRESNO.

The Prisoner Is Well-Known as a Prominent Churchman.

SANDERS IS FOUND GUILTY.

This Now Implicates Him in the Murder of Wootten.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

FRESNO, April 30.—A sensation was sprung in the trial of Professor Sanders charged with forgery and suspected of the murder of Willian Wootten this morning by Judge Carroll Cook of San Francisco, who presided in Judge Webb's stead.

The Judge had instructed the jury and dismissed it.

Turning to the attorneys the Judge said: "I am satisfied one witness in the case committed willful and corrupt perjury. I refer to Dr. G. B. McIntosh the expert on penmanship. I therefore order him in custody of the Sheriff with bonds at $5,000.

McIntosh was an expert in behalf of Sanders. He is well-known throughout the State as an expert in hand writing also as a minister of the gospel and a school teacher.

The jury, after an hour's deliberation, returned a verdict of guilty.

Judge Cook will pass sentence today.

This is Sanders fourth trial.

The verdict in this case was reversed by the Supreme Court.

In the third trial the jury disagreed, principally upon conflict of testimony and because of the failure to prove Wootten dead.

The verdict this morning implies Sanders guilt in the murder of Wootten.

CONE TO PIECES.

The Hungry Army Is Deserted by Its General, Leffingwell.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SACRAMENTO, April 30.—The Bee this evening publishes special information from Yolo county to the effect that the Industrial Army recently shipped out of San Francisco, and which was induced a few days ago to march out of Sacramento, has gone to pieces.

Leffingwell, the leader, deserted the army yesterday afternoon and went to San Francisco.

Being without a determined leader and almost on the verge of starvation, the men remaining decided to disband and strike out for themselves.

Many of them have come back to Sacramento and are begging food from house to house, but as they have no organization they are not feared.

FOR PURE FOOD.

The Congress in San Francisco Gets Down to Business.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—The California Pure Food Congress held its first session today with a large attendance of delegates from civic organizations and from interior towns of the State.

J. W. Kerr, president of the Manufacturers' and Producers' Association, called the convention to order and introduced as president of the congress Julian Sontag.

Speeches were made by Sontag and Mayor Phelan, after which the committees on credentials and organization got to work.

James W. Kerr called the congress to order. In his opening statement he described the origin and progress of the pure food movement in California. He said that California could not depend upon soil or climate alone; the people must rely on themselves.

Egypt has all that could be asked for in climate and soil, but presented a case of arrested development.

It remained to be seen whether California would be the Egypt of the North American continent or the banner State of the Union. He recounted the history of the Manufacturers and Producers' Association, and said that the banding together of merchants to get lower freight rates, while the result might have been satisfactory to Eastern manufacturers, had left California worse off than before.

Idle artisans walked the streets, and farms were deserted and for sale. The Manufacturers' Association had in hand two great aims—one was to prevent the competition of convict made goods with free California labor; the second was to prevent the importation of adulterated food products.

The first had not been prosecuted to its full extent, but the voice of indignation was rising and growing in intensity. The farmer—the producer—could not reach his full measure of prosperity while his products met with competition from adulterated goods.

He wished to dispute the statement that the Manufacturers and Producers' Association sought to erect a wall around California. That was not true.

But when convict made goods, when goods so adulterated that they could not be sold in the States where they had been made came into California, then the time had come to act. These goods threatened some of the broadest industries of California.

It was not sought to shut out honorable competition.

The courts, the press, the pulpit had seen the situation and had acted favorably. They did not wish to have the prosperity of California arrested. It was hoped that this movement might be extended all over the State.

DARKTOWN AROUSED

A Coming Cake-Walk Stirs Up the Local Beaus.

BETTING IS VERY LIVELY.

Colored Circles Are Excited Over the Big Event.

There is great commotion in Darktown over the advent next week of the Primrose and West Minstrels for one of the principal feature of the entertainment consists of a cake-walk to be given each evening. The entry list is open to all colored people, local talent preferred, and the trophy to be won, consists of a cake and a gold watch and chain.

Outside of the inducement of the prizes, there is a bitter feeling of rivalry spurring on the Athenian beaus. The cake-walks held a year or so ago left some heart-burnings that have never yet died out for there are three men in the city, each of whom thinks the other two not in the same class with himself when it comes down to cake-walking.

One of these is Milt Johnson, who claims the title of champion cake-walker of the Pacific Coast, the distinction having been won at a free-for-all tournament a couple of years ago in the Mechanics' Pavilion, San Francisco. In addition to his claim of possessing a finer suit of clothes than any other colored man in Oakland Milt is a vocalist and can also do a step or two if the occasion requires. His poses during the walk are good enough to patent though it is needless to do that with them, for as Milt says, there is nobody else in this part of the world who can attempt one side of them. Milt has a special interest in the approaching tournament, for he claims he was cheated out of the prize on the last occasion a walk was held here. The event was at the Macdonough Theatre and the trophy went to George Hanlin. The second prize was awarded to Milt Johnson but he was mad and refused to take it.

George will be a candidate again this time for the honors and rewards. He is not afraid of trying conclusions with Milt his old-time rival and has got some points from his sparring partner Lin Church that he thinks will prove effective.

The third candidate, though, believes he has a walk-over, which would of course be appropriate to an event of the kind. He is the great and only Majah Waters, the dizzy Beau of the nineteenth century. The Majah already wears the laurels of two cake walks, but he says he wants to be crowned with a tiara and if enterprise can secure it he will certainly win this time. For the past week he has been putting in his spare hours with his old schoolmate, John Fernando Conners, who has been teaching him some steps that have never been seen before on any stage. One consists of standing heel to heel and then bringing the right foot round the left leg back to a position at right angles with the feltock joint. To do this trick requires elastic clothes for the Majah has to stretch his right leg about three feet longer than usual so as to wind it around his left extremity.

The Majah's make-up, too, will be a joy forever. His six feet four of humanity will be clad in a white suit, which will be fringed at the ends of the sleeves and trousers like a frontiersman's hunting shirt. Across the anterior amplitude of his nether garments will be painted a sunflower and in his shirt front he will wear the razzle-dazzle diamond for which he has a refusal of $11,000. A magnificent pearl discovered by him one night while eating oysters with his friend, Beau Conners, will decorate his shirt-collar and on his head he will wear a wreath of wild roses. The Majah has been warned to be careful about having such a resplendent make-up, because eggs are only 10 cents a dozen and his white suit would be an easy mark, but he says death has no terrier for him, and he will not even ask the management to let him appear behind a net.

The betting as to who will win the cake is very spirited in Darktown, the quotations this afternoon being as follows:

Majah Waters—3 to 5¾ first; 2 to 9 straight or place, and 1 to 11, one, two three.

George Hanlin—8 to 7; 7 to 10; 3 to 11¾.

Milt Johnson—11 to 6; 2 to 1; 1 to 1½.

The biggest bet so far has been made by Jim, a Pullman porter on the overland. He bet 22 cents to 2 that the Majah would be inside the money.

The three leading candidates are in hard training today and the night of the show the Majah will be on view to the public at the bootblack stand at Fourteenth and Broadway, where he intends to have his face polished before going to the theater. He will furnish his own blacking.

Later.—Lazard Freres have increased their gold shipment for tomorrow from $1,250,000 to $1,500,000. This makes the total gold shipments tomorrow, $4,000,000. The total shipments from April 27th to May 4th, will be $7,227,000.

The total shipment of gold to Europe for the week ending May 1st is $6,225,000. This includes the shipments announced for tomorrow. On Tuesday next, Kidder, Peabody & Co. will ship $750,000, making a grand total announced and the actual shipments from April 27th to May 4th of $6,975,000.

THE TEACHERS' SALARIES.

Speculation as to Whether They Will Be Paid In Full.

The Matter Depends on the Amount of Taxes Collected.

Whether the public school teachers will receive their full yearly salary is now an open question. The Board of Education has ordered the schools closed on May 28th, but this will not necessarily prevent the teachers getting pay.

As there is a strong probability of a shortage, the Board decided to give the teachers a week longer vacation, so that if they are not paid they will not be compelled to work.

Now all except the delinquent taxes have been paid and within a week the County Tax Collector will turn the money over to Treasurer Sanford. The latter inclines to the opinion that the shortage will not be as great as believed, but nothing definite can be determined until the cash is counted and apportioned to the various funds.

This will be done soon after the money is in the vaults and on these figures the teachers will be paid. However, there are many delinquent assessments, which when received would even up matters were it not for the fact that the money will probably be paid in during the next fiscal year.

The Board of Education will offer the teachers warrants for as much of the amount due them as the funds on hand will allow. In return, the teachers will be compelled to receipt for a settlement of their account in full, as the Board cannot contract for more than the funds on hand for the present fiscal year will allow.

It is then obvious that the delinquent tax receipts will be of no avail to the teachers, though the money is certainly intended for them.

How to get around the matter has bothered the heads of the officials, but no avenue has opened up.

A HEROIC DEED.

In Saving a Child's Life, John Ross May Lose His Own.

AN ACCIDENT IN ALAMEDA.

Badly Burned and Bearing a Can of Flaming Oil.

A RACE THROUGH A HOUSE.

The Danger Which a Little One Unconsciously Escaped.

The heroic act of John Ross, a house painter, will probably cost him his life. He has been engaged in painting the interior of a house on Encinal and Union avenues, Alameda, and this noon was mixing a quantity of color with oil and turpentine. At the same time he was enjoying his afternoon smoke and in some manner the light from his cigarette set the inflammable chemicals on fire.

A great burst of flame shot into the air, setting fire to his clothing and partially suffocating him. However, with great presence of mind, Ross foresaw the destruction of the house, if he did not get the can containing the flaming fluid out of the house. He was then in the second story of the structure and though the heat blistered his hands he picked up the can, rushing with it down the stairs. The flame played on his arms and clothing, but the painter stoically stood the pain.

The following consequences might not have resulted were it not for a little child in the house. The youngster was on the staircase playing with some toys directly in front of Ross as he was descending.

The brave man at once grasped the situation and saw that if he tried to pass the little girl, the flames would surely communicate to her light dresses. Ross hesitated a moment, then turned and laboriously retraced his footsteps up the stairs and through a room to a front window. Bursting the pane, he hurled the flaming can into the street and then fell to the floor, unconscious.

Assistance was soon on hand and Ross' burning clothing was torn off. Then the man was hurried to the Alameda Sanitarium, where he now lies between life and death. His face, arms and hands are horribly burned and it is feared he has inhaled the flames.

He is 21 years of age and is a brother of Police Officer Keyes.

COURT NEWS

Colonel John Bromley has been appointed guardian of Nicholas Hennicker, who has been adjudged incompetent by Judge Ogden. Hennicker owns property in Alameda which he recently leased to Mrs. Annie Cashmore for thirty years at a monthly rental of $1. One day the old gentleman was buncoed out of $2,400 by some sharpers in San Francisco, who played the old valise flim-flam game on him. Col. Bromley's bond was fixed at $5,000.

Justice of the Peace H. T. Morris of Alameda has filed his monthly report, showing he has collected $98 in fees.

H. A. Cramer has been appointed a Deputy Sheriff to serve without pay.

Justice Pimental of Eden township reports having taken in $78 in fees for the past month.

James D. Byrnes has sued E. C. Sessions and W. F. Perry to recover $5,000 on a promissory note.

Gertrude B. Wilson has sued John Wilson for a divorce.

When the case of Manuel Fontes, charged with seduction was called, Judge Ogden dismissed it on the motion of the District Attorney, as Fontes had made amends by marrying the woman in the case.

THE S. P. CASE.

It Will Be Submitted to Judge Cantrill on Demurrer.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

FRANKFORT, Ky., April 30.—In the suit against the Southern Pacific Railroad Company in the Franklin County Circuit Court for $135,000 fines and forfeiture because of failure to report for taxation of its franchise, the attorneys agreed to submit the case on demurrer to Judge Cantrill. FREIGHT CARS SMASHED.

A Little Wreck on the Curve in the Southern Pacific Yards.

An Extra Crashes Into Them, but No Person Is Injured.

A platform car loaded with gravel was broken into splinters and two other cars similarly loaded were telescoped at noon today in the yards of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company at West Oakland.

The injured cars were standing on the track near the big curve in the yard and were out of the range of vision of Engineer Weil of locomotive No. 1593 as he was pulling an extra freight into the inclosure.

When he saw the cars, although he was running only at a low rate of speed, the engineer reversed his engine and succeeded in reducing the speed of the train.

The momentum, however, with which the locomotive struck the first car shattered the car completely, without, however, doing more injury to itself than the breaking of the cow-catcher. No injury was sustained by the cars on the extra. The wreck was cleared up in a short time and the track was again open for business.

FIENDS FOLLOW THE FLOOD

Overturned Homes Ravaged by Looters at West Guthrie.

Searching Parties Looking for the Victims of the Downpour.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

GUTHRIE, O. T., April 30.—Cottonwood and Cimarron rivers are now within their banks. Searching parties have gone out in boats and rafts to coast both banks for sixty miles from Guthrie, or farther, in search for dead bodies.

Pillagers looted the wreckage last night, entering many of the dismantled houses in the absence of their owners.

Guards were placed everywhere possible.

Threats to lynch the thieves are made, but none were caught.

No additional bodies have been recovered since last evening in the vicinity of Guthrie. A man was reported floating down the Cimarron last night on a log. A party has gone out to intercept him if possible. The destitute are being cared for.

WORK OF THE SANCTUARY

The Annual Meeting of the People of Trinity Church.

The Directors and Vestrymen Are Chosen for Next Year.

The Trinity Episcopal Church held their annual congregational meeting last night. The following directors and vestrymen were selected: John Bakewell, H. M. Sanborn, D. M. Doub, D. Y. Campbell, Milton Buckely, J. W. McClymonds, Webb N. Pearce, R. H. Stokes, Julian Mathieu, J. L. Le Conte, John Hampton.

The newly elected vestrymen will meet Thursday to organize. They will also elect their president, secretary, and treasurer, and the two wardens. Five lay delegates will also be chosen to attend the annual Episcopal Convention which meets in St. Lukes's Church, San Francisco, the 18th of May.

MARISTANY DIVORCE.

Judge Ogden today granted a divorce to Mable S. Maristany from Joseph Maristany, on the grounds of extreme cruelty.

Judgment was allowed by default, the defendant failing to appear. No alimony was asked for though the wife was allowed $200 attorney's fees.

Prior to the proceedings, Joseph Maristany had settled $13,000 of the community property on his wife, consequently no division of property was asked for.

Joseph Maristany is a resident of Alameda, advanced in years and reputed to be very wealthy. He married the complainant in the recent proceedings in San Francisco, February 6, 1895. Mrs. Maristany's maiden name was Mable S. McCraley, though previously to her marriage to Joseph Maristany she had borne the title of Mrs. Sperry.

In the proceedings against Maristany the wife alleged that on several occasions Maristany had abused her and even locked her out of his house.

Maristany was formerly a resident of Oakland and made his headquarters in the Galindo Hotel.

His first wife was an inmate of the insane asylum and died there two years ago.

Soon after her death, Maristany married the woman who has now got rid of him and at the same time got a share of his property.

Proposed Consolidation With Another Hereditary Organization.

By Associated Press to the Tribune.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 30.—The National Congress of Sons of the American Revolution has brought to Cleveland many distinguished men. At the opening session an address of welcome was delivered by President Richardson of Ohio, and a response was made by Vice President General Edwin S. Barrett of Massachusetts.

Secretary General Franklin Murphy of New York apologized for the absence of President General Horace Porter, who is arranging his affairs preparatory to his departure as Ambassador to France.

The secretary's report showed that the society has 9,000 members in thirty-six States, with a society in Hawaii.

The absorbing topic at the morning session was the proposed union with the Sons of the Revolution. It is likely that the convention will take steps to that end.

A complete assortment of the latest and most stylish clothing, gents' furnishing goods, hats, etc., at Joseph Harris' clothing store, 927 Broadway. Grand re-opening Saturday morning, May 1st.

HOPELESSLY INSANE.

Ida E. Barnum Committed to the Asylum at Stockton.

Ida E. Barnum, the sister of Rev. O. S. Barnum, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Ukiah, was yesterday committed to the Stockton asylum by Judge Ogden. The girl with her mother lived at 566 Fifth street, while the brother was necessarily in Mendocino County with his flock.

The scene in court was decidedly dramatic. The girl admitted she intended to kill herself and declared she was being persecuted by her neighbors, who talked to her in whispers, even though at a great distance from her.

For a great many years the patient had always worn black and had kept herself locked up in her house, never making acquaintances and seldom permitting visitors to see her.

The girl cried pitifully while her brother and mother were giving their testimony.

She protested she was perfectly sane and said her examination had been arranged by her mother and brother, who wanted to get rid of her.

Mrs. Barnum stated her daughter had taken a violent dislike to her and had attempted to poison her. Several other witnesses corroborated these statements.

An Address by Judge J. M. Haven at the Outlook Club.

THE INDIAN'S CONDITION.

An Interesting Story of a Papoose of the Forest.

HOW TO RECLAIM THE SAVAGE.

Christianity Looked Upon as the Hope of the Poor Aborigine.

Judge J. M. Haven read an interesting paper last evening before the Outlook Club on the American Heathen. His theory was that the only way to treat the Indian question was through Christianity. Judge Haven read a story from Harper's Young People for 1896. The following are a few extracts from the story:

THE LITTLE PAPOOSE.

"I am a jolly little Indian papoose. I keep pretty close to my mother. She does not often like to face a responsibility of my size, but she will shoulder it any time and we are bound together by the strongest ties. When I am at home I live in a wigwam which mother and I built. We made it of poles covered with bark and skins. We built it together. Mother did the work, and I backed her up heavily, and between us both we pulled through without interrupting father, who was busy sitting around and basking in the sun and smoking. My father is bound to bask in all the sun there is, no matter how much time it takes to do it, and he is just as ambitious about the smoking; he is bound to do it all himself, and he does not want mother and me to meddle with it; and it is a good deal the same way with the eating. Nothing to eat—roots, berries, acorns, everything gives out. My father can shoot no squirrels, my mother can get no corn. Then we start for the Agency to get rations. It is a long tramp, but I don't mind it, for mother does the walking. We form a procession of two—a double header. Mother heads the front and I head the rear. As the column moves forward I go ahead backward, and I pass everything on the road that is not going my way. Of course, I can't see what I am coming to till I am going away from it.

THE GOVERNMENT.

"My people are pretty much like me. The old Mother Government straps them upon a board and shoulders them around from one place to another. If she hears them moan with hunger she feeds them; if she hears them shiver with cold, she blankets them; when they shriek and kick and rage, she beats them. She lets them live on the backside of somewhere till somebody else wants it, and then she bundles them off to the other side of nowhere which nobody wants.

"My people, like me, are going ahead backward. Once they had all America to hunt and fight in; now they have only a small portion of the land where they can stay. Ah! my people started in 'big Injun,' but they are coming out little papoose.

"White men who stay home and make boots say my people are dying out; but white men who look around and count say my people are living on, as many as ever. Oh! it is chaps like me that keep the Indian question going. There are thousands upon thousands upon thousands like me, bright-eyed, brown-skinned, lusty young braves, at this very minute cutting our eye-teeth on our knuckle-bones and toughening our lungs on young war-whoops, but we are always on the rear side and looking backward.

"They say there are white babies who are carried upon their mothers hearts and next to their cheeks; these babies are always looking forward, and everything starts small and grows large and comes toward them, and they can catch it if they want it.

"Oh! old Mother Government, take up my poor people and bear them upon thy heart! feed them with the milk of human kindness; give them justice, and teach them, by example, the law of love. Then shall my people lift up their heavy hands; they shall look forward, and not backward, up, and not down, and lend a hand."

BEECHAM'S PILLS for wind and distress after eating.

AN EASTER LILY.

It came from Egypt and was as mysterious as that far-off land. Uncle Jack brought it when he came home in September. He said that it was an Arum or Calla lily and would bloom by Christmas.

When the many odd foreign gifts were unpacked, Uncle Jack began distributing, and the lily fell to Dorothy. She was very happy to be the owner of a plant that was arranged by nature to bloom at a certain time, and she tended it with great care and patience.

October went by, then November; December came, still no sign of a bud. Dorothy grew impatient. On Christmas eve she was watering the lily. Tears of vexation sprang to her eyes. Leaves stood out on it in luxurious abundance. They shook and quivered as the drops of water fell on them; they might have been saying, "We're glad! we're glad!"

Then the leaves were quiet. Maybe the plant was thinking. Christmas went by, the plant still sent out more leaves. March came; Lent began, and Dorothy's duties doubled. Still she tended the lily, and one day a shoot came up that was rounder than a leaf's stem and was lighter in color.

"Oh!" cried Dorothy. "You dear little plant! You wanted to bloom for Easter. Look, mamma! Here is a lily bud at last!"

There was great rejoicing over the long, pearly stem that slowly pushed the bud higher and higher till it topped the leaves and gracefully curled itself into a flower.

Holy week saw it open fully, and on Good Friday it showed the golden stamen that threatened to shower its yellow glory over the beautiful white cup.

Dorothy's mother was glad to have her little daughter so interested and charmed. Dark days and hard times had come to Dorothy's father. Many a sacrifice was laid on each member of the little household, which each tried to bear so that no added burden should fall on the discouraged, overtaxed man.

Dorothy listened bravely when her little

Isn't it a pity that so many women go through life as nervous, fretful invalids, always in a sick-bed or on the verge of it. They are to be sincerely pitied for the great majority have in them the making of healthy, amiable, capable wives and mothers. These cases become sadder still when it is realized that the sufferings they endure are unnecessary. Any woman can be healthy and amiable and helpful if she will take care of the health of those delicate organs that are essentially feminine.

The greatest known medicine for women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures all weakness and disease of the organs that make wifehood and motherhood possible. It allays inflammation, soothes pain, and restores calm and strength to the shattered nerves. It prepares for wifehood and maternity. Over 90,000 women have testified to its virtues. Druggists sell it.

"I commenced using your medicine three days after my child was born," writes Mrs. A. J. Bryant, of Wilbraham, Hampden Co., Mass. (care of Wesleyan Academy). "It was the fourth one, and I never got up so strong and well. I can do all my own work. I have recommended my friends to try the 'Favorite Prescription.'"

If somebody was offering to give away gold mines for the asking what a scrambling there would be! When a mine of health is offered there is some lively scrambling too. Over 680,000 people hurried to get Doctor Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser at $1.50 per copy. It has 1,008 pages with over 300 illustrations. Something over 100 of these pages relate to diseases peculiar to women. This book may now be had free. Send 21 one-cent stamps, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., the cost of mailing only, and get the book in paper covers; or, send 31 cents for cloth binding.

friends were talking of Easter gifts and Easter finery. She tried to keep in her heart the thought, "I have an Easter lily. I do not care for gifts or new clothes. I have been a good little girl during Lent, and my lily bloomed. That is enough for me."

On Good Friday morning, after service, the rector overtook them on their way home. He said he feared the Easter flowers were not to be as plentiful as usual. Hard times had come upon many members of the little congregation, and he was asking people to give what blossoms they could spare from their house plants.

"I always tell them, anything that is a flower will be welcome. Let every one do as he is disposed in his heart; not grudgingly nor of necessity; for God loveth a cheerful giver."

The mother looked down at Dorothy, wondering whether she would proffer her lily. No, she did not seem to understand that the rector meant her. So when they were safely home the mother said:

"Shall you send in your lily, Dorothy?"

"Why, no. Certainly not; it is only one flower. And it is all that I have. I must keep it!"

"Well, dear! If you feel in that way the gift would bring no blessing. The rector said something about cheerful giving, if you remember."

Dorothy looked sulky. She thought it very strange that she must give up everything, even her dear lily, when other girls had new dresses and hats. Why there was Flora Simpson—here Dorothy broke down and cried. She flew up to her room and sobbed out her trouble, till an angel came with a lovely thought to comfort her. When she came down stairs her face was shining and she was a cheery little Dorothy once more.

Next morning she snipt off her lovely lily and two great green leaves, folded them neatly in a white paper, on which she wrote: "This is only one lily, but it is all I have. It comes cheerfully from Dorothy."

Her mother looked on while Dorothy labored over her tiny note. There was a smile on her lip and a tear in her eye as the dear child started for the church. Sometimes mothers' smiles and tears are like prayers.

The ladies who were dressing the church were very quiet when Dorothy's gift was unfolded. One fair girl who always knew what to do on all occasions picked up the lily and its leaves, twisted a bit of ribbon about their stems and fastened it to the brazen beak of the eagle in front of the lectern.

Dorothy waited no longer. She fled home with a happy beating heart. She had given up all. Yet she was glad! glad! glad!

And the fair girl at the church worked away with a will, unmindful of thorns, or tough stems, making God's house more lovely with each effort, and brushing away drops from her cheeks that were not all "dew."

All people are not rewarded at once for good deeds. This time a little shower of good things was to fall on Dorothy's brown curly head.

Toward afternoon on Easter even, Mrs. Simpson, Flora's mother, wrote Dorothy's mother a little note and sent with it a great pasteboard box. The note said that Flora's grandmother had just died and her little girl would have to wear black dresses for many months. It said that as Dorothy and Flora were the same size, would she accept the little Easter outfit and wear it for their sakes?

Dorothy's mamma cried a little, and so did Dorothy. It seemed hard that pleasure and sorrow must go hand in hand. Still, on Easter day, Dorothy looked brave and pretty in the plaid silk dress and feathered hat. She tried to think of other things, but was very conscious of all her fine clothes, until she raised her eyes to make the responses. All thought of herself fled then, for the chancel was like a sweet garden, the Lord's garden, and in front of all, its pure whiteness showing against the dark wood, was Dorothy's Easter lily.—Elvira Floyd Froemcke in the Delaware Churchman.

Ralli is an appropriate name for the minister who, it is expected, will inspire new courage into the Greek hosts.

A farce entitled "The Editor's Dream" is to be presented tomorrow night in Alameda. There ought to be money in it.

What must "Oom Paul" think of the appropriation by England of a million dollars for armament for the Transvaal.

America is now engaged in importing 10,000 Irish girls who will be placed as servants. A few thousand embryo policemen will be the next invoice.

Where is that army of the unemployed? Railroad contractors in Oregon have written to California saying they want 300 men at wages of $1.50 per day.

"Curfew shall not toll tonight," says Governor Pingree of Michigan. He has vetoed the bill on the ground that it is interference by the State in matters of purely domestic concern.

Once again is the value of the State University to the farmers apparent. The army worm has invaded some southern counties and the farmers have sent to Berkeley for advice.

The powers have started to quarrel over Crete like a lot of dogs over a bone. Each nation wants the little island, and as there is not enough of it to go around, the snarling and growling is very ominous.

There is an end to everything, but it has not yet been reached in the list of obscure statesmen who did get "yeoman service" for McKinley and who, tired waiting to be sought by the office, are now doing the seeking.

The Oakland court news furnish a good example of locking the stable door after the horse is gone. This is the item in question: "Nicholas Henneker who lost $2,700 by bunco men exchanging a valise containing money for one freighted with lead, had a guardian appointed by Judge Ogden today."

The wonderful advance Los Angeles has made during the past few years is illustrated by the following dispatch received from there today: "The census of the city, though not completed, shows the population of Los Angeles has passed the 100,000 mark." This is an object lesson of what enterprise and public-spiritedness can do.

"The Christian Endeavorers of Fresno and others interested in Christian work held a mass meeting in the Presbyterian Church last evening to take steps "to make Fresno better," reads a report from that city of tragedies. Why did they neglect their duty for a whole generation, until Fresno is generally conceded to be past redemption?

Santa Rosa is not extending a very warm welcome to the Christian Endeavor delegates. The Republican says: "It is arranged to have three excursions at the close of the big convention of those people at San Francisco. One of these excursions is to come to Santa Rosa. Thus is our town highly favored. But what are we going to do with these people when they come?"

The Napa Journal man is evidently jealous of the Bee's notoriety. Nothing else could have prompted the following: "How much are the proprietors of the Sacramento Bee worth anyhow? They have had two libel suits on hand for several weeks, and now they have another. In each case $50,000 damages are prayed for, or a total of $150,000. Gee whiz! If we had enough to tempt anybody to sue us for that amount, we would retire and turn the Journal over to the "devil."

It is very evident that a malignant form of spring fever is prevalent at Placerville. Somebody down there created this for the Democrat: "Arrayed in all the blended enchantments of earth and sky, spring is again enthroned on the sunny hills of El Dorado. Crowned with all her budding and blooming glories, no Queen of Sheba nor of Los Angeles carnival ever rivaled the royal splendors of her primitive empire. Her loving scepter is over us all and we pay to her our undivided homage."

THE CROPS ALL RIGHT.

The fears that the recent north winds would wreak vast damage to the crops may be dispelled. The State Agricultural Society, in view of the alarming reports regarding the situation, has collected bulletins from all over the State, and the result shows that the damage is not enough to cause any material change in the excellent prospects for the farmers this year.

The moist cooling winds of the past few days have done much to offset the hot wave that had been prevailing and the grain crop generally is said to be in first class condition. Rain would be welcome in all portions of the State, except where haying is in progress, but even if it does not come just now, the situation is not serious.

In Alameda County the Agricultural Society collected reports from Niles, San Leandro, Pleasanton and San Lorenzo. Niles stated that all fruits are growing well, apricots especially. But few scale are noted, the lady birds having done their work well. Vines are sprouting and hay is being cut.

San Leandro reported that the warm weather had advanced all the crops and Pleasanton that the fruit and grain looks well. At San Leandro it was stated that the cherries are not in as good shape as usual, but the apricots are fairly well.

In the great wheat belt of the San Joaquin there is not much complaint over the situation, for the month of May is always relied on as the best one for grain, while throughout the citrus districts the orange and lemon trees are said to be in a mass of bloom.

Those who were fearful, therefore, that disaster might come from the severe weather can now ease their minds in face of this unimpeachable showing. Instead of it being a bad outlook for the farmers, the indications are that the year will be one of great prosperity for the fruit and grain ranchers of California.

A TUNNEL OR BRIDGE?

The proposition to tunnel the estuary is taking a more tangible form than many ever expected it would. The report of the engineer at the meeting of the joint committee last night showed that the underground way can be constructed for about $175,000 so on the score of expense it has an advantage over the bridge system as beyond the first cost there would be no outlay for repairing, bridge-tending service and so forth.

That a tunnel would be immeasurably better than bridges, there can be no question, for apart from the greater safety for travelers it would leave the estuary harbor free from the impediments to navigation caused by the bridges. An easy grade, it is said, can be established for although the extreme depth would be more than sixty feet below tide water the approaches would be so gradual that a grade of five per cent would be the maximum required.

Whether or not the railroad people will assent to the proposed changes for their service is an unknown quantity. The chances are they will not and as they posses a right of way over the present route there is no way of compelling them to conform with the new project. However, the committee may succeed in placing the matter before them in such a favorable light that they will assent so the present agitation on the subject should be kept up until a decision is reached one way or the other.

England has evidently not been suffering from any hard times. In the House of Commons yesterday it was announced that the revenue for 1896-7 was $519,750,000, the expenditures $507,385,000 and the surplus $12,365,000. During the year the national debt was $27,420,000 and the total value of British trade $3,690,000,000, an increase of 5 per cent. The magnificent financiering of the British statesmen is shown by the fact that the revenues are steadily on the increase in every direction and the expenses on the decrease. Napoleon was right when he said the English were a nation of shop-keepers.

The Chronicle today devotes considerable space to "the Beau Brummel of the Prize Ring" who has just arrived in San Francisco and adorns the article with two large pictures of the celebrity, one showing him in all the gorgeousness that has gained for him the title of "Beau." TOLD FOR WOMEN.

Mme. Adam, the prominent Parisian journalist, was driven into the work by the unhappiness of her first experience as a wife. Her parents married her when she was a girl of 15 to a notary in a provincial town. She left her husband, and, with the aid of George Sand, wrote herself into fame in Paris. Her second husband was a Senator and left her a fortune at his death. This enabled her to found La Nouvelle Revue and to establish the salon to which all the celebrities of the French capital crowd when she receives. There is a theater attached to her house, where clever amateurs are wont to present little plays on Sunday nights.

In trying to make a point against vegetarianism a member of the Ethnographical Society in Paris read a paper before that body a short time ago in which he insisted that cannibals are exceedingly strong and vigorous, far exceeding in strength those tribes not addicted to such food. He said that the savages who abstained from human food rarely ate meat of any kind and were a puny lot. The most curious part of his argument was that the flesh of women was much more digestible and far more nutritious than that of men; many tribes recognize the fact and eat only women until the supply gives out.

The bicycle wedding which recently electrified London, as the bride wore the regulation white satin and veil, has had a rival in the marriage of the young Parisian who went to the church in a carriage propelled by an electric motor. The woman who wants to make herself famous now seems to have little else left her than a balloon in which to tuck her happy lover, the minister and a couple of witnesses; there is no doubt that the fragrance of orange blossoms and the wisps of tulle floating back in the sunny air, as the novel nuptial car ascends, would bring about a fine degree of notoriety.

HE DREW THE LINE.

A Young Man's Interesting Courtship With a Southern Girl.

While some of the members of the local bar were entertaining an attorney from North Carolina, he told this among a good many other professional experiences:

"Though our mountain people are not educated, no Yankee can beat them in a dicker or go after a dollar with greater avidity. A rich young fellow from our place went up among them for a time to take on some health, and while there paid more attention than he really meant to one of the few beauties that live there. She was a creature of magnificent proportions, naturally brilliant and as relentless of purpose as any moonshiner that ever went after a revenue officer. She sought to recover $10,000 damages for breach of promise, and I had the young man's case.

"On the trial the girl made a star witness. When I asked her point blank if he had ever proposed to her, she replied that he had not, in so many words, but his every action, look, even his tones, was a proposal. She admitted that she had not gone into a decline because of his inconstancy, but graphically pictured months of agony, unrequited longing and wounded pride. It looked bad for us.

"At this stage of the case a lank six-footer from the mountains came up to me and whispered that he wanted to be called as my first witness. He sternly declined to answer questions till on the stand, but reckoned that his word was good that he would pull the young fellow through.

"All I ever asked him was his name, and you couldn't have stopped him with a gun. He was the girl's husband. He had married her a week after the young man left the mountains. He had consented to her bringing the suit in her maiden name and saying nothing about her being a wife. 'But if it's so,' he roared, 'that's she's been a-mournin' an' a-pinin' an a-dyin' aftch this heah dude critteh, I ask th' cowt fub a divo'ce.'

"The girl rushed to his arms. She sobbed that she had never loved another. The case was won for me, but the young man never goes to the mountains or makes any miscellaneous bestowal of his affections."—Detroit Free Press.

WOMEN FOR CALIFORNIA.

Eight young women living in a little town in Massachusetts recently wrote to Governor Budd, asking him what their chances of obtaining employment in California would be. They say that they are all good sewers, have trades and can furnish the best of references. They desire to come to California in the hope of bettering themselves, trade in the East, they say, being very dull.

The Governor has referred the letter to Secretary Filcher of the State Board of Trade. What his reply will be does not yet appear, but it is pretty safe to say that he will not advise those Massachusetts young women, however industrious and well recommended they be, to come to California unless they have a certainty of employment here. It is true that there are in this State as good opportunities as can be found anywhere for young men and women to earn a decent livelihood. But the day is long past when Californians, happy and prosperous and proud of this great State, urge people of other States, who are not well supplied with means, to come out here and take chances of finding employment.

The State today has only too many residents who came here from the East relying on their energy and industry, but without means to subsist until those admirable qualities could find a suitable opportunity. When these unfortunates were in the East the very name "California" was to them the synonym of prosperity. They came here strangers, only to find that while the labor market may not be as badly crowded as it is in the older States, it is well supplied, and the newcomer is at a disadvantage.

People who come to this State without means may succeed—many have done so in the past—but, as conditions are today, it is safe to say that persons who reach California poor and conquer success could certainly do equally well had they remained at home, where they have friends and where they are perfectly familiar with the opportunities in the field of labor.—San Diego Union.

TO AVOID BRIDGES.

A Proposition to Build a Tunnel Under the Estuary.

MANY FAVOR THE PROJECT.

Some Reasons Why Bridges Should Not Be Used.

THE VIEWS OF THE COMMITTEE.

What It Would Cost to Build the Subway Now Suggested.

The committee from the Merchants' Exchange and the Board of Trade met last night in the Council Chamber and discussed matters relative to the estuary bridge. Messrs. Snow, Laymance, Glison, Gler, Bridges and Sharp were present.

Lyman Bridges advocated the tunnel idea, which he declared could be carried out at a cost of $200,000. He offered the following resolutions, which with some amendments were adopted:

"Whereas, The two bridges across the estuary of San Antonio, or Oakland harbor, as it is now called, are an obstruction to navigation and a hindrance to the growth and prosperity of Alameda county and to the cities of Oakland and Alameda in particular; and

"Whereas, The United States Government has demanded that before July, 1898, there shall be not less than 150 feet clear on each side of the center piers of said bridges when the draws thereof are open, thus virtually compelling the removal of the present bridges; and

"Whereas, The conditions and circumstances in force at the time when the railroad bridge across the harbor at the foot of Alice street was permitted have so changed that there is no longer a necessity for any railroad bridge whatever across said Oakland harbor; and

"Whereas, There is no injustice to the railroad company in our urging the abandonment of their Alice street bridge; they using instead a third rail on their narrow gauge track on Pacific avenue to Park street, and using the narrow gauge pier for all Alameda traffic, with broad gauge trains on their Fruitvale route on Park street, adding also a third rail to the Webster street track and running trains thereon to the Oakland pier, using also a third rail on their broad gauge lines from Webster street on First street to their broad gauge pier, also extending the third rail from Webster street to Fruitvale, and by a short link of narrow gauge tracks from Fruitvale to Versailles avenue station on the S. P. C. R. R., or any other plan decided upon by the railroad company, to accomplish the same end; thereby giving both Alameda and Oakland better service and saving the cost of the construction of a bridge, and the cost of repairs, expenses of the operation thereof and the cost of inevitable accidents to life and property; and

"Whereas, A viaduct can be constructed on Broadway, commencing at the south side of Fourth street, continuing with open viaduct to Second street, thence by tunnel under the harbor to an equal length on the south side of said harbor, thence by open viaduct for a distance of 800 feet to the present grade, thereby giving an easy grade of five feet in each 100 feet of tunnel and viaduct, and a depth of more than sixty feet below tide water; therefore be it

"Resolved, That the interests of the citizens of Alameda county will be best served by the removal of the two bridges now crossing Oakland harbor.

"Resolved, That every effort should be put forth, especially by the citizens of Oakland and Alameda, to prevent any railroad or county bridge from being rebuilt across said harbor.

"Resolved, That we earnestly recommend to the Board of Supervisors of this county that they cause a tunnel and viaducts to be constructed under Oakland harbor at Broadway, issuing bonds therefor if necessary, said tunnel and viaducts to be used solely for wagon traffic, street railways and pedestrians."

It was decided to ask the co-operation of Alameda, and to this end resolutions were carried. They read:

"Whereas, The citizens of Alameda will derive an equal benefit from the tunnel under the harbor, and believing that they are very much interested in the plan set forth in resolutions passed by this committee; therefore be it

"Resolved, That the chairman and secretary of this committee invite the President of the Board of Trustees of Alameda to appoint a committee to meet with this committee at its next meeting."

The resolutions regarding the tunnel will be presented to the Supervisors at the next regular meeting.

GETTIN' RELIGION.

I ain't much on religion, nor prayer meeting beside;
I've never j'ined the church as yet, nor ain't been sanctified;
But a tender sort of feeling draws me nearer to the skies,
Since I got a peep of heaven through a pair of trusting eyes.

Time was when nothing moved my thoughts above this sinful world;
No preacher's words could stir me up, in wrath an' fury hurled.
But lately I've been drifting higher to the better land,
And the force that leads me upward is a little dimpled hand.

Seems like the bad thoughts sneak away with that wee chap hard by;
And cuss words that were handy once won't come when he is nigh.
Fact is, it sort o' shames me to see those clear blue eyes
Look at me (when I'm gettin' riled) in pity an' surprise.

I don't know much of heaven or angels an' such things;
But, somehow, when I picture 'em, it ain't with harps and wings,
But with yeller curls all tangled, and tender eyes that shine,
An' lips that's soft and loving, like that little chap of mine.

Then, when he folds his dimpled hands in his little bed at night,
An' whispers "Now I lay me," why, thar's something ails my sight,
An' my throat gits sort of husky when he blesses me, an' then
I'm dead sure I've got religion by the time he says "Amen!"

A DEBT OF HONOR.

The Pacific publishes the following tribute to Rev. J. K. McLean, D. D.

Oakland has honored itself this week in doing honor to Rev. J. K. McLean, D. D., president of the Pacific Theological Seminary. For twenty-five years Dr. McLean has been a resident of Oakland; for thirty-six years he has been an earnest, devoted minister of Jesus Christ. He has seen Oakland grow from a scattered suburban town of 15,000 people to an imperial city of 60,000. The First Church, under his wise leadership, has grown from 240 members to 1,182. In these twenty-five years five other Congregational Churches have been organized in Oakland, and all of them have found in the "Old First" a cherishing mother and in Dr. McLean a wise counselor and helper.

But Dr. McLean's ministry has not been confined to one city. The entire Pacific Coast has been his parish. From far and near struggling churches and perplexed pastors have turned to this Oakland Greatheart for counsel and help, and never in vain. He has been, in the true sense of that word, a Bishop—"not as being a lord over God's heritage," but as a fellow-worker, leader and helper of his brethren.

Dr. McLean's influence in educational interests has been far reaching and powerful. The public schools of this State owe much to him. Hopkins Academy (now Belmont School), Pacific University, Whitman College, Pomona College and the Pacific Theological Seminary, all have been borne upon his heart and felt the impulse of his friendship and helpfulness.

Dr. McLean's has been a fruitful, germinal ministry. He has done solid, substantial, abiding work. And the secret of his great success has been his own royal manhood. The transparent genuineness of the man has illumined his life, thrilled in his words and given power to his work.

The great concourse which gathered in the Oakland First Church last night was only a small fraction of those who honor Dr. McLean. The eloquent speeches only voiced what thousands on this coast feel towards this honored minister of Jesus Christ.

SEA GULL EGGS.

An Order From Washington Protects the Hens From the Birds.

The demand for eggs in the San Francisco market promises to be materially increased by an order just issued from Washington, putting a stop to the traffic in wild bird's eggs from the Farallone islands, just off the Golden Gate. The eggs of the sea gull and the murre, or guillemot, have been shipped to the market of San Francisco in great quantities since 1849. The birds were present in the breeding season, from May until August, on the island in such countless thousands that, although persistently robbed, their numbers seemed to show no appreciable diminution. Of recent years, however, naturalists have noticed the effect of the annual persecution of the vast colonies and have had fears that they might in time become extinct. As a result of the investigation, the prohibitive measure has been enacted. About 20,000 dozen bird's eggs have been sold each year at prices ranging from 15 to 25 cents per dozen.

A FINE ENTERTAINMENT.

Talented People Sang and Played With Organist Hunt.

A Programme Which Afforded an Evening of Great Pleasure.

One of the most successful concerts of the season was given last evening at Hamilton Hall, when the testimonial to H. O Hunt, organist of St John's Episcopal Church took place. The entertainment was interesting throughout and it demanded a larger audience than was present though the hall was comfortably filled.

Mr. Hunt again gave proof of the fact that he is master of the instrument over which he presides. He made the old pipes of the organ fairly talk and received well-merited applause for his efforts. The variety of expression and feeling thrown into the compositions, by the player was particularly noteworthy. A plaintive prayer and cradle-song, later gave way to the stirring cadence of martial music, while several selections from Wagner tested both the ability of the performer and the capacity of the organ Mr. Hunt's final number, the "Festival March," was excellent With the full play of the stops, an amazing volume of music poured forth from the pipes.

W. B Hopkins, made a very favorable impression. He has a rich baritone voice and handles it well He sang "The Holy City," "My Violets," "For All Eternity," and "Recompense." Three of the numbers have been heard repeatedly and the singer consequently threw himself open to suffer by comparison with the efforts of other vocalists. However, his execution and fine voice carried him through successfully. Rather than detracting from his rendition, the style of the others who have previously been heard in the same songs was placed under a shade.

Miss Jean Mary Hugh, with her violin made another hit. The young lady has come rapidly to the front and her reception last night at once pronounced her a favorite. Nor did she disappoint the audience Her numbers were very well executed and the enthusiastic demonstration of approval was well deserved.

Miss Bessie Lee Wall, sang several numbers. She has a light contralto voice, of limited range, but she pleased her hearers. The "Irish Folk Song," which has become so popular with vocalists of late, was one of her first numbers.

Few male quartettes have become as popular as the Reliance Club four They sing together particularly well and their contribution to the programme was distinctive feature.

All of the numbers were encored and the participants were not backward in acceding to the demands of the audience. As a consequence the entertainment was considerably prolonged

Taking it as a whole, the concert was one of the best given in Oakland for sometime and the variety of the numbers forbid any lack of interest

A word must be said of the accompanist, Miss Constance Jordan She added much to the value of the numbers by her careful work In the "Irish Folk Song," her accompaniment could not have been improved upon.

Tomorrow will be a gala day at Sutro Baths as the May Day festivities will be conducted on an elaborate scale. One thousand children will dance in a May pole dance. Games and other pastimes will be the afternoon's amusement There will be a grand concert afternoon and evening.

Details of the Parade Are Gradually Being Arranged.

A Request Made That the Sailors Come From Mare Island.

It has been decided that there shall be four divisions in the Memorial Day parade.

The arrangements for the first division will be as follows:

Platoon of police, under Chief Lloyd.
Grand Marshal and aides.
United States troops, including a battery of artillery.
Fifth Regiment Band.

Sons of Veterans.

The line of march will be from lower Broadway, where the parade will form, up Broadway to Fourteenth, along to Grove, to San Pablo, where the militia will cross over to West Broadway and take the cars to the cemetery. The special feature of the ceremonies at Mountain View will be the acceptance by the Mayor in behalf of the city of the four cannons and 1,000 shells presented by the Government The orator of the day will be G. W. Arbuckle. Mayor W. R. Thomas will also make an address. There will be appropriate singing, probably led by the Reliance Quartette. In the evening there will be exercises at the First Congregational Church. Chairman L. W. Woodward has secured General Chipman, the recently elected department commander of the G A. R., to make the address. A pretty feature of the evening will be the forty-six little girls, placed in the form of a cross on the platform, and dressed to represent the States of the Union

The Boys' Brigade and band; Patriarchs Militant, Knights of Pythias, Junior Order of American Mechanics, school children, League of the Cross Cadets, Clans McKay and MacDonald, Golden Rule Lodge, I. O. O. F., American Order United Workmen, will all participate, but their divisions have not yet been arranged.

Grand Marshal King has written to Senator Perkins requesting him to procure from the Secretary of the Navy a permit to allow the marines from Mare Island to participate in the parade. He has also invited General Forsyth of the regular army to be present on the day of the celebration After the parade a lunch will be served to the United States troops at the Lyon Post headquarters in Loring Hall.

There will be a joint meeting of the committees tomorrow night in the Council Chambers, at which reports will be presented.

THE EFFECT OF A HYMN.

A Gang of Criminals Is Broken Up by the Work of a Singer.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, April 30.—A song rendered by the choir in the church at Chicago avenue and Ada street two weeks ago was responsible for the capture of four members of the desperate Weir gang by the police last night. As the church was filled with the song, "Where is my wandering boy tonight?" Fred Drenkson, one of the members of the gang, bowed his head in sorrow That song marked a turning point in the young man's life, and today he is a paroled prisoner, and, it is said, will be given his freedom for assisting in breaking up one of the most dangerous gangs of criminals that ever operated in this city Property worth many thousands of dollars has been stolen, and the police have twenty-eight charges against the members of the gang.

Since January Detective Hamilton has been collecting evidence against the gang, and with the confession of Drenkson, which covered sixty-three type-written sheets of paper, the police say that they have the case complete The four members arrested are Edward Ernst, Henry Weir, Mrs. Henry Weir and Charles Zimmerman, father of the woman. A large quantity of the stolen property was found at Weir's house.

CHILI'S CABINET.

The Downfall of the Present Ministry Seems Certain.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, April 30.—A special to the Herald from Valparaiso, Chile, says:

"There is still talk of a Cabinet crisis here. El Pervenir, the leading organ of the Clericals, insists that the resignation of the Minister of Justice, owing to his differences with President Errazuriz, is inevitable, and will probably be followed by the downfall of the present Ministry. The Liberal newspapers declare that the fears of a crisis are groundless.

"The feeling of uneasiness and distrust in Argentina owing to the outburst of friendliness between Brazil and Chile, is daily growing. The lack of reassurances to Argentina as to the real cause of the demonstrations is what has caused the uneasiness in that Republic."

STAGE ATTRACTIONS.

It is very evident that Primrose & West experienced none of the financial drawbacks and disastrous results last season which many travelling combinations experienced. It was the encouragement that their efforts were rewarded with, which induced them to make an extraordinary investment, the result of which is without doubt the greatest venture ever attempted in the minstrel line. Primrose & West's big minstrels who will appear at the Macdonough next Monday and Tuesday nights are composed of a combination of blacks and whites, each and every one an artist of unusual excellence. Two distinct organizations rolled into one make the most gigantic organization of minstrel talent ever heard or dreamed of. Three military bands, one a pickaninny band of unusual merit under the able directorship of a European conductor is an especial feature. All are uniformed in the most extravagant fashion. Two distinct first parts, concluding the most pronounced sensation ever introduced, are only a few of the features promised, and the promises of Primrose & West are always accepted with that degree of faith which means crowded houses everywhere.

THE OAKLAND.

The large houses that have nightly greeted the popular Elleford company, are an indication of the "hit" these clever people have made. "The Plunger" is the bill for the rest of the week.

On Monday May 3d Little Pearl Landers will begin a week's engagement as Cedric Errol in "Little Lord Fauntleroy."

A BERKELEY CLASSIC.

The value of this story does does not consist of what it says, but of the evident desire of the Berkeley editor who wrote it to avoid trouble:

Mrs. Morrissey, the proud possessor of the old gray goose which has figured so prominently in the county and local courts, repels indignantly the charge that her pet fowl has cost her as much money for litigation as the report indicated. She says she is out only $2 outside of her car fares, loss of time, and the 'sitting" of eggs which the faithful bird was incubating in the natural way before being lodged in durance vile in Mrs. Cherry's back yard. It was the sovereign State of California that bore the court costs in the case, and if the State can't protect its honest daughters in their possession of an innocent sitting goose, the costs are deserved. Besides, the attorneys had nothing else to do at any rate and were only earning their wages.

Mrs. Morrissey also objects to being designated as "the defendant" in the suit for petit larceny, when she was the prosecuting witness. But really this error must be attributed to the compositor. The names Cherry and Morrissey look so much alike, are spelled so much alike, and sound so very much like each other, that the mistake might innocently be made by almost any compositor. It is to be hoped that this explanation is not only clear, but wholly satisfactory.

Success Crowns His Work.

Owing to the need of more spacious apartments Dr. A. T. Noe, the celebrated osteopath, has moved to 1055 Washington street. The osteopathic treatment has proved very successful with chronic diseases and especially in curvatures and dislocations. The system of treatment is based upon the theory that most chronic troubles arise from dislocations of some parts of the human anatomy. Without instruments Dr. Noe adjusts these irregularities and re-establishes the supply of blood and nerve force to the part effected.

BIG MEN'S SALARIES.

The Question Engrossing the Attention of the Berkeleyans.

Various Items of Interest From the University Town.

BERKELEY, April 30.—Efforts are being made by members of the University factulty and their well-wishers to have a part of the new funds appropriated for raising the salaries of some of the professors. It is claimed that the Eastern colleges and Stanford are much more generous to their professors than California is, and the University has lost several of its leading lights on this account. Some of the heads of departments, and full professors receive less than assistants do at Stanford. President Kellogg receives $8,000 year year as compared with $10 000 for President Jordan. Professors Bacon, Jones, Bradley, Paget and Magee are mentioned as some of those deserving an increase.

While the heads are seeking to increase their $6,000 per year the instructors are wondering how they can increase their $600 a year The latter receiving only $50 a month, less than a country school ma'am, think themselves entitled to some consideration.

The physical and chemical departments in the University have issued bulletins announcing the opening of a summer school from June 17th to July 30th, principally for the benefit of teachers in secondary schools. The laboratory dues in physics will be $5 and in chemistry, $10, of which $7 50 will be retained, and the remainder, less any damage for broken apparatus, will be returned at the close of the course.

Professor Thomas R. Bacon, who is an ordained Congregational minister, as well as head of the University history department, has been selected to preach the baccalaureate sermon to the class of '97. The services will probably be held in Stiles Hall on May 9th. It is expected that the customary advice to the parting class will be well worth hearing, coming from such a man as Professor Bacon.

The Science Association of the University wil hold its last meeting of the term on May 4th. The annual election will be held. Prof. A. C. Lawson, president of the association, will read a paper on "The Flooding of the Golden Gate."

Students entering the colleges of mechanics, mining, or civil engineering hereafter must show qualifications in plane trignometry and free hand drawing.

The annual banquet of the Alumni Association of the University of California will be held on May 12th, the evening of commencement day, at the California Hotel in San Francisco.

The annual meeting and election of the Philosophical Union has been announced to take place on Friday evening, May 11th, probably in Stiles Hall.

The following officers have been elected by the Lorin Fire Company: President, E. G. Vail, vice-president, Fred Baiser; secretary, Joseph Stevens, treasurer, A. Vail, foreman, William Caley; assistant foreman, W. Prescott. A committee consisting of L. S Rodgers, A Boiser, was appointed to draw up a new set of by-laws for the company.

The Peralta Fire Company gave an entertainment and dance Wednesday evening in South Berkeley Hall. Arrangements were made by a committee consisting of Dr. W. O. O'Neill, H L. Tisdale, A. F. Schod, Frank Fowden and E. J. Laugh.

A LEGAL HITCH.

The Constitutionality of the Annuity Law Is Questioned.

AUDITOR BRODERICK'S VIEW.

The District Attorney Has Not as Yet Examined the Enactment.

OPINION OF MR. M'CLYMONDS.

R. W. Snow Inclines to the Ideas of the San Francisco Official.

The question of the legality of the teachers annuity act has been raised in San Francisco by Auditor Broderick who declares it is unconstitutional.

If his ideas are correct it will affect all the teachers in the State and as a consequence the Oakland instructors have taken considerable interest in the matter.

The particular section over which the question was raised reads as follows:

"All money paid as compensation or salary forfeited or deducted from the warrant or demand for salary of any teacher or teachers for and on account of absence from duty from any cause, shall be set apart and in cities in consolidated cities and counties shall be paid monthly into the teachers retirement fund."

San Francisco's Auditor does not think the money can be legally taken from the treasuries and put into the fund.

Section 8 of the act is also believed to be unconstitutional in as much as uniform legislation is impossible. It provides that the teachers throughout the State shall be given a pension of ... a month except in consolidated cities and counties where they shall receive $50 monthly.

When asked his opinion of the matter today District Attorney Snook declared that the question was a broad one which required a little study before an opinion could be reached. His office had not yet been called upon to look into the legality of the act and so the question had not been officially considered.

AUDITOR SNOW.

"I have expected this question to be brought up," said Auditor Snow when seen by a Tribune man. "The Legislature of 1895 passed a school teachers annuity act which some of the teachers of Oakland attempted to have applied but they became discouraged because of the ambiguity of certain sections of the act, notably section ..., where the county and City Treasurers were so badly mixed up that the section could not apply unless these offices were Siamese twins.

"Section 10 of the new law improves the situation somewhat although Mr Broderick seems to think it far from being clear.

"So far as the City Treasurer of Oakland is concerned the law made it applicable only for teachers of the High School because the primary and grammar schools under decisions of the Supreme Court are paid from State and county funds and the City Auditor and Treasurer could not be called upon to consent or deny the application of teachers for benefit from the City Treasury. It is already admitted by High School teachers themselves that there is a question as to the application of this law of annuity to them and they have proposed to bring a friendly suit in some way so that the matter might be tested. I have concluded to help them in every way to bring the matter before the courts. I have already determined not to divert any moneys from the Treasury to the Teachers Annuity and Retirement Fund Commission until the law is passed upon by the court.

In view of the decisions of the Supreme Court of this State in which Boards of Education have been held to be officers of a school district and amenable solely to the school laws, the school districts tax payers must not be surprised if it finds over that money in school funds are entirely under the control of Boards of Education and no other officers of the city have any legal responsibility therefor or right to dictate as to their expenditure.

PENSIONS.

"I believe the opinion is very general that pensions which are paid to firemen, policemen or school teachers should be provided altogether by the employees out of their monthly compensation received during active service and set aside by them during such occupation, the school district or city government having control of such fund as a guarantee of security. All such insurance against want should be under the control of the State and guaranteed by it."

City Superintendent of Schools McClymonds when seen said he had not heard the question of the act's legality raised.

"I do not believe," said he, "that Mr Broderick's view or any action he might take would be final. Still it is a question that should be settled at once. San Francisco and Oakland teachers are on a different footing in regard to the law. Over there the payment of a certain sum each month into the fund is obligatory; here it is optional with the teachers.

"A great many teachers are very ... 100 have already notified their intention of becoming eligible to the benefits of the law, that is they have signified their willingness to contribute toward the fund."

BAYARD LIKES CLEVELAND.

The Ex-Ambassador Talks About the Lately Retired President.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, April 30.—A dispatch to the Journal from London says:

Ex-Ambassador Bayard was much interested in the report of the Reform Club dinner in New York and the Ex-President's speech. When asked for his views with regard to Mr Cleveland for President in 1900 he said:

"I have not seen Mr Cleveland for four years and as I expect to see him in a few weeks I will be able to answer the question better then.

"So far as my own preference goes however and my regard for the welfare of the United States is concerned I should rejoice to see Mr Cleveland in the Presidential chair. My personal regard for him leads me to hope though that he will retire from public life.

"I believe that in the future the people will look back upon the four years of Mr Cleveland's last administration as one of the momentous periods in our history and will realize that the part the President played during those four years was fraught with more of good to the country at large than that of any other of our chief executives. Mr Cleveland is the logical leader of the Democracy and before the present administration is concluded I believe that almost the unanimous voice of the people will call upon him again to take the reins of the Government.

I am an older man than Mr Cleveland and have been longer in public life and my advice to any public servant who has borne so much more than his share of the people's burden and borne it with such magnificent courage and self sacrifice as Mr Cleveland has, would be to lay it down when he can do so as surely the part he has played will insure for him the everlasting gratitude of his countrymen. Nevertheless if, as is entirely probable there should be no leaders so capable as Mr Cleveland to take the helm in 1900, I would be one of the first to ask him to enter again upon the onerous task."

WALTER WILL COME HERE

Only a Difference Regarding Rent Now to Be Adjusted.

Every Indication That Oakland Will Shortly Secure the Orpheum.

The question of rental is all that now stands in the way of securing the Orpheum for Oakland. Gustav Walter the proprietor of the San Francisco establishment is willing to locate here and is satisfied with the Smith property on Fourteenth street across from the Macdonough Theater.

Concessions have been made on both sides during the past few days and there is every indication that the deal will be accomplished. If it goes through Oakland will get one of the prettiest vaudeville houses on the Pacific Coast.

Mr Walter intends if he comes at all, to come to stay. He wants a twenty years lease and if he cannot get it he will be satisfied with one for ten years and the privilege of ten years more.

He will pay is ground rent. The building will be his and will cost about $40,000. It will necessarily be constructed of brick on account of being in the fire limits. The plans include six suites of offices on the top floor but this may be changed and the entire upstairs given to a gallery thus making the building one for the theater only.

Mr Walter says that if the deal goes through Oakland will be placed on the Orpheum circuit and will get all the big shows that come to his house in San Francisco. The additional theater would greatly benefit his business as the more opportunities he has to play his artistes the less becomes the percentage of the tax he has to meet of defraying their expenses to and from the East.

SPANISH LOSSES.

Insurgents Kill a Large Number in a Very Lively Engagement.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, April 30.—A dispatch to the Herald from Havana says:

The engagement which the Spanish had with General Rodriguez in the Pugatory hills and which was reported as a decisive Spanish victory turns out to have been the reverse. The Spanish columns encountered the insurgents and attacked sharply, relying on their superior forces. The rebels retreated toward their camp and succeeded in playing their old trick of drawing the Spanish into an ambuscade.

General Castillo arrived with reinforcements while Rodriguez was engaging the Spanish and fell on their flank. The fighting lasted five hours and in killed wounded and prisoners, the Spanish lost 280 men.

News comes from Santiago de Cuba that 200 volunteers headed by a priest and a prominent physician have joined the insurgents because they were dissatisfied with the conduct of the Spanish authorities and believed that Garcia would succeed in maintaining his supremacy in the eastern province.

The situation at Banes continues to command attention. Four cruisers and several gunboats have been ordered there to land a force to march on the port from the direction of Tiquin. The rebel force in and near Banes is estimated at 3000.

General Weyler came quietly back to Havana early yesterday morning after a six weeks trip to Santa Clara during which if he accomplished anything from a military standpoint the fact has been most effectually concealed. It is now reported that he is going to Spain very soon but the report is probably due to the report that his son sails on April 30th. It was reported last night that some insurgent chief of importance had passed into Pinar del Rio. He is believed to have been Quintin Banderas, but the statement lacks confirmation.

From Matanzas and other towns in Havana, Santa Clara and Pinar del Rio comes news that starvation and disease are on the increase.

A. AND P. FORECLOSURE.

Passes Into the Hands of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

ALBUQUERQUE, N M, April 30.—The foreclosure sale of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway Company will take place at Gallup this county, on May 3, 1897. O N Marron the special master will officiate as auctioneer. The road will then pass to the hands of the Atchison Topeka and Santa Fe, after which the following changes will be officially announced:

The auditing department of the Atlantic and Pacific in this city will be consolidated with the California Southern and removed to Los Angeles. W E Walsh will be the general auditor.

FAME MINUS FUNDS.

The Cinderella Company's Untoward Fate on the Road.

DESERTED BY A BACKER.

Poor Food and Sickness Added To Their Misery.

THREE LITTLE OAKLAND GIRLS.

A Sorrowful Tale Told by a Mother Attracted by the Footlights.

Among the members of the Cinderella company recently stranded at Salt Lake City were three little Oakland girls. They are the daughters of Mrs. A. Sawyer of Ninth and Webster streets, the eldest being not over twelve years of age.

One of the little ones, Flossie Sawyer, was taken sick on the trip and is yet somewhat indisposed. The other little thespians, however, do not seem disposed to look back upon their experience on the road with regret.

Mrs. Sawyer accompanied them and this morning told of their experiences.

On the guarantee of E. J. Holden that he had good backers Mrs. Sawyer closed up her dress-making parlors and taking her children, joined the Cinderella company.

The show made money while in California, though only profuses rewarded the actors' efforts to obtain their salaries.

Several of the little ones were taken sick on the road owing to the poor food given them and the rapid jumps from town to town.

At Sacramento, Holden's backers withdrew, but of this Holden said nothing and billed the company to play at Denver.

In Denver business was very poor, the hotel fare worse, and salaries were not forthcoming.

If any money was made over and above expenses, Holden's whisky bill, it is said, absorbed it.

Finally the company reached Salt Lake City, and there it was that even traveling expenses could not be met. Mr. Burton, a banker of Salt Lake City, got up a benefit for the company and shipped the little ones home.

Said Mrs. Sawyer, "There is just $190 coming to me, but whether I shall get it or not is a question. Beside the loss of my dress-making trade, I have had to pay doctor's bills for my little girl. There were twenty-three in the company when we left Denver and none had received their salaries.

"Mr. Charles Agnus was backing Holden, and whether we can hold him for our salaries remains to be seen. He gave the company no notice of his withdrawal at Sacramento and we proceeded to Denver in good faith."

Mrs. Sawyer does not appear to be bitter toward anyone, but simply desires to get the money due her, if it is possible.

FRIEND FOR POSTMASTER.

It Is Said That He Has Been Slated for the Oakland Office.

A dispatch to the Call from Washington today says:

"W. H. Friend will be the next Postmaster of Oakland. He has been the chairman of the Alameda County Republican Committee, and Representative Hilborn has decided to appoint him.

"A week ago the Call printed an interview with Postmaster-General Gary, in which he said that the Representative in Congress would always be given the privilege of naming the postmasters in his district, and that where the Senator and Representative lived in the same city or town they were expected to reach a mutual agreement.

"This is exactly the case with Senator Perkins and Representative Hilborn.

Both live in Oakland. Many of the Senators claim the right to name all of the Presidential Postmasters. Especially do they insist upon their right to appoint the Postmaster for their own city, but Mr. Perkins is disposed to be as liberal as possible, and he will acquiesce in Hilborn's selection of Friend, who will be nominated when the incumbent's term expires."

WHERE IS LENORA?

San Jose Is Seeking to Learn of the Whereabouts of a Character.

Chief of Police Lloyd has received a communication from Chief Glass of Los Angeles, asking for information concerning Lenora Stuart, who is under arrest in that city for shop-lifting. Incidentally the Chief mentions that the woman has nearly succeeded in bankrupting several Los Angeles establishments by her petit thefts.

Under the name of Emma De Lacy, alias Freeman, the woman was sentenced to eighteen months in San Quentin from this city in August 1895. She served a year of her sentence and was released. She was convicted of petit larceny and a long list of priors. The woman has achieved a reputation throughout the United States as a most daring and cunning operator in her particular line, and her photograph adorns the rogues' galleries in all the principal cities in the country. In her younger days she was beautiful and became known as a successful confidence woman. When her beauty began to fade she turned to shop-lifting.

SPACE WILL BE FREE.

Every Encouragement to the Annual Exposition Exhibitors.

Complete Arrangements Made to Ensure a Fine Fruit Display.

The exposition directors have begun work in earnest and from now till July 4th when the third annual show will open, the executive committee will be busy.

Messrs. Trowbridge, Gier and Spiers have been appointed an executive committee with full power to act, and let contracts and all the standing committees have been instructed to go ahead with their respective branches of the work.

It has been decided that no charge shall be made for space to exhibitors and this decision will, of course, cause a rush for choice stands so that applications will have to made early. The exposition will be confined to its original scope, which is, that nothing shall be exhibited but the products and manufactures of Alameda County.

A feature of this year's show will be a display of fine fruit. In the past all attempts to procure first-class fruit, or indeed fruit of any kind, has been a failure because the growers have not sent in exhibits. It has been decided to purchase the finest of fruit this year, and to have it renewed every day. This will insure the thousand Endeavorers who will be here an opportunity to see just what Alameda County can grow.

Superintendent Sharp in conjunction with the Finance Committee has been authorized to supply an assistant secretary whose duties are to commence as soon as appointed.

After the dog show at the Tabernacle which closes on the 13th of May, preparations will be at once begun, building the annexes and preparing the grounds for the third exposition.

ALAMEDA'S SONS.

Return of Natives From the Grand Parlor at Redwood.

The Alameda County delegation to the Grand Parlor of the Native Sons, returned last night, after an enjoyable visit to Redwood City.

The delegates are: Oakland Parlor, J. Cal Ewing, Herman Gard, Judge J. J. Allen, R. M. Fitzgerald and Rod Church; Athens Parlor, Ben Woolner and W. Dean; Piedmont Parlor, Geo. De Golia, Frank Barnet and Joseph Bouquet; Brooklyn Parlor, Ed. Reed and L. N. Cobbledick.

A meeting of the delegation was held yesterday before the election of State officers. R. M. Fitzgerald was elected chairman and J. Cal Ewing secretary. Ilen Norris of Centerville was endorsed for Grand Inside Sentinel and later was elected to the office by the State parlor. J. J. Allen and L. N. Cobbledick were recommended for district deputies and their appointment will probably be made by State President Clark.

REMAINS IDENTIFIED.

The Deceased Was a Drug-Clerk From Across the Bay.

The remains of the man who was found dead beside a fence near the depot of the California and Nevada Railroad depot yesterday morning were identified by A. Redecker last evening as those of a man whose first name was Jacob. Mr. Redecker said the man had worked as a drug clerk for Redington Brothers, the wholesale druggists of San Francisco.

Mr. Redington telephoned over this morning that from the description he believed the man was Jacob Nugengust, who had been employed by the Redingtons for the last twenty years. He was about 60 years old and had no family nor relatives on this coast. Mr. Redington will send a man over to identify the remains, and Coroner Baldwin will then hold an inquest.

An autopsy by Drs. Butenu and Porter disclosed the fact that death was probably due to acute pneumonia.

WILL NOT CLOSE DOWN.

Local Insurance Association to Retain Its Office.

The local insurance association will not go out of existence on May 1st, as was anticipated some time ago. The members have decided to keep it open, although since the reorganization of the Pacific Coast union, the field of the local operations has been somewhat confined. One duty of the local board will be to attend to the registration of agents in accordance with the new rule recently adopted by the union.

Is It True?

Yes, it is true that nothing so rapidly builds up the system as a pure stimulant, if taken regularly. Thousands have testified to this fact and have unhesitatingly declared that has given them strength and energy when all else has failed. Experiments have proved it to be the safest and purest of all medicinal stimulants and the best thing for giving stimulative nourishment to those who are weak and run down. Taken at meal time it sharpens the appetite, aids digestion and increases the power to assimilate food. It soothes excited nerves, restores lost vitality and gives a feeling of renewed strength to every part of the body.

EASY TO MAKE NEW ROADS

Remarkable Work of the Great Kelley Street Roller.

It Is Pronounced a Success by a Large Number of People.

Because of want of space the Tribune merely mentioned the fact that the new roller was started yesterday.

After watching the process of spiking and rolling the block on Twelfth street the spectators were convinced that the old Board of Public Works made no mistake in procuring this machine for the city.

The Mayors of the various cities who wired the Board on the subject knew what they meant when they recommended this particular machine so highly.

It is a model of mechanism, and while it has the appearance of a ponderous piece of machinery, its designer had an eye to proportions, and many who witnessed its operations yesterday and today recognized in it the same machine which was so conspicuous on the World's Fair grounds, as the many beautiful drives there were made by this same make of roller. Even with its immense weight, it is as easily handled as a three-wheeled bicycle.

Yesterday morning saw Twelfth street, north of the High School, surpassed in roughness only by Clay street, and by night it was as smooth as any street in the city and this transformation was achieved at a cost of less than 1 cent a foot.

J. H. Maggard, the representative of the Kelly Company, says that any street in the city could be put in equally as good condition if there is any material or foundation to work on.

The opinion of every one was that the city had made a good selection with this machine and the excellent quality of stone so near the city, there is no reason why Oakland should not have the best streets of any city on the coast.

The crowd that witnessed the testing of the roller yesterday was composed of a number of the leading business men of the city. Most of the Council was present, as was also the members of the new and old Board of Public Works.

The work was done under the supervision of Superintendent of Streets Miller and City Engineer Clement. Every one seemed highly pleased with the results of the experiments. The new roller will be a great addition to the apparatus in the Street Department, and will enable the streets to be kept in repair according to the new specifications which will soon be adopted.

AN OLD SUIT SETTLED.

Judge Ellsworth Dismisses a Suit Affecting Much Property.

Judge Ellsworth yesterday disposed of a case which has been in court ever since 1882. It was an action started by the late Henry P. Irving, who joined about fifty defendants in the suit. He wanted to recover the ownership of a large tract of land between Telegraph avenue and Linden street and the northern boundary of the city and the water front. This was claimed by virtue of deed claimed to have been given the plaintiff by the Peraltas.

The land in question is some of the most valuable in the city, taking in beside much business property, the places of Frederick Delger, the late A. J. Snyder and a number of other large land owners.

The suit was started on February 9, 1882, and summons were issued to all the defendants. Whether these were ever served is not known. At all events, nothing was heard from them and none of the defendants put in an appearance.

After the case had dragged along in court for a few years, the plaintiff died, but the executor of his will, William Matthews was empowered to press the suit. This he failed to do.

Today Judge Ellsworth dismissed the case on the ground that the failure to return the summons was legally conclusive of the fact that the defendants had never been served.

POLICE COURT CASES.

The Lottery Charges Against Chinamen Have Been Dismissed.

The fifteen lottery cases which are before the Police Court have been continued till May 7th, when they will be formally dismissed on motion of the Prosecuting Attorney.

This will be done on account of a recent Superior Court decision which holds that an interpreter cannot give expert testimony in identifying lottery tickets.

Fred Kent, who generally attracts a large crowd on Broadway by his queer actions while intoxicated, is in jail again after a couple of weeks' total abstinence. He was sentenced to five days in jail.

The police report the finding of a buggy robe at Twelfth and Broadway this morning.

Sophia Fisher, charged with knocking down Jose Castro, a waiter employed in her husband's restaurant, with a hot plate, has pleaded not guilty to the charge. The case will come up May 12th.

Dr. A. E. Larkey has filed plans for the plumbing of a new home which he will erect at Twenty-second and Webster streets. It will be two stories.

AROUND THE FESTAL BOARD

A Social Evening Spent by Presbyterians Across the Bay.

Several Well-Known Oakland People Among the Throng.

The anniversary banquet in honor of the quarter centennial of the San Francisco Theological Seminary was held at the Occidental Hotel, San Francisco, last evening. About one hundred and fifty Presbyterian divines and elders with their wives were present. Among those from this side of the bay were: Rev. Robert Coyle and wife, D. Edward Collins and wife, Rev. S. Palmer and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, E. Fish, Rev. F. S. Brush and J. Bordwell of Alameda, Rev. J. Perry and Mr. Gilbertson of San Leandro, Rev. James Curry of Temescal, Rev. Mr. Warren of Berkeley and George Lyons of Haywards.

The banquet opened at 8 o'clock. The tables were arranged in rows and were prettily decorated with roses, smilax and candle labra.

D. E. Collins responded to the toast, "The Need of the Presbyterian Type on the Pacific Coast." He sketched the growth of the Presbyterian spirit from the time of the Reformation and concluded thus: "Out of these times where the just, but merciless demand was an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth, grew the Presbyterian faith. The Presbyterian Church calls for reverence and obedience as the first requisite of a staunch faith, on this coast if at any time, the present calls for this spirit. Everything here seems to seek a deadly democratic level of the worst character. The cosmopolitan nature of our inhabitants demands something that may create reverence and respect."

Dr. Coyle was called upon to speak on "The Spirit of the Covenanters." The time remaining was so short as to necessitate a condensation of his remarks. Dr. Coyle told the story of the man who buried seven wives and in order to save time and expense placed a single monument over the graves, consisting of a hand pointed to Heaven with the words, "Seven Up." He spoke in glowing terms of the spirit that had moved the covenanters, declaring that they were men of convictions and not men of mere opinions; men of conquest, who never hesitated. "The old convenanter never said 'probably,' he never questioned but drove ahead. And his faith was backed by unwavering courage." The speaker called up numerous instances in history to prove the existence of this spirit in the covenantes, citing the cases of John Knox and Dr. Chalmers. They were the lovers and promoters of liberty in church and state. Macaulay paid them high tribute as such, and some of the signers of the Declaration of Independence were the lineal descendants of John Knox. He expressed great admiration for the Scotish race, claiming that their greatness as a race of thinkers was due to the early spirit inculcated by the convenanters.

"We need more of this spirit right here on this coast today," concluded Dr. Coyle, "we need it to eliminate the weak-kneed and half-hearted from our pulpits and professors chairs. And finally we need it to uphold the word of God and to vouch for its truth from cover to cover."

The banquet closed with a benediction by Rev. Mackenzie of San Francisco.

NOT READY TO ACT.

Progress of the Negotiations With the Valley Road Directors.

The Local Committee Has a Letter Which May Not Be Published.

A reply has been received from the Valley Railroad Directors, but it contains nothing definite.

The letter, which E. A. Heron, chairman of the Special Committee says cannot be made public, contains an intimation that the railroad has not yet reached that point in its plans, where it can with judiciousness make public what it desires from Oakland in the matter of a terminus or right of way.

The Valley Directors have conveyed their opinion that the negotiations must necessarily be private for sometime and the local committee feel certain that the Valley Road will not be in a position to give a definite statement for several weeks. The Directors are now engaged in negotiations that are not far enough advanced to admit of a discussion of them.

RUZI'S DEATH.

Colonel Calhoun Will Aid in Having It Inquired Into.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

DANVILLE, Ill., April 30.—Colonel W. J. Calhoun, who has accepted the mission to Cuba to assist in the hearing of the Ruiz case, will leave Danville for Cuba on next Sunday or Monday. He goes first to Washington to receive his instructions from the Department of State.

Colonel Calhoun declined to discuss the subject of his mission, because he thinks it would be highly improper for him to do so. He had had no conference with the Secretary of State or other officials on the matter. He says he understands the purpose of the mission is to assist as legal counsel Consul-General Lee in an investigation into the cause of and circumstances attending the death of Dr. Ruiz, an American citizen, who was found dead in one of the Cuban prisons. It is not expected that the investigation will take very long, and he expects to return home some time during May.

It is believed here that Judge Day of Canton, who was first slated for the position, strongly recommended that the President appoint Mr. Calhoun.

PROTEST AGAINST SALOONS

The License Committee Will Consider the Subject Tonight.

Opposition to Permits to Sell Raised in Many Places.

The Municipal License Committee of the City Council will hold a meeting this evening and there promises to be a lively time in regard to the Twenty-third avenue liquor licenses and the licensing of a saloon at Trestle Glen, and one near the Durant school on Grove street. Several petitions have come in and the fight of two years ago will likely be repeated.

Another fight will probably be on the license of William Reichhold at 413 Fourteenth street across from the Macdonough Theater. Claus Weinert and W. Lebrecht are on his bond. The place was refused a license by the old Council on account of a protest from the congregation of the First Presbyterian Church.

A petition protesting against any license being issued in the Twenty-third avenue district, east of Nineteenth avenue, is signed by T. H. Cruff, 1520 Twenty-third avenue; C. Chister, 1170 Twenty-first street; J. W. McKay, 1053 East Sixteenth; H. Pascoe, 1132 East Seventeenth; G. S. Prolser, 1357 Twenty-third avenue; E. B. Babb, 1316 East Eleventh; J. B. Hamlin, 1008 Twenty-second; F. M. Foxier, 1204 Twenty-fourth avenue; R. Whitaker, 1264 Twenty-fourth avenue; R. Hassard, 1251 Twenty-fifth avenue.

The protest against licensing a saloon at Trestle Glen is signed by the following: S. B. Alone, Thirtieth and Union; S. B. Randall, California College; J. H. Wymen, 681 East Thirty-second; J. T. Cross, 614 East Twenty-eighth; G. W. Reynolds, 1910 Thirteenth avenue; D. Richardson; John Gray, 669 Thirty-second street; F. V. Humphrey, 655 Grant street; F. W. Humphrey, 655 Grant; F. J. Hannan, 2070 Thirteenth avenue; F. M. Smith, Seventh avenue and Twenty-fourth street; G. W. Nixon; F. P. Thwaits; J. H. Hampel; J. C. Westphal, King street; J. Benson, G. T. Allender; E. E. Brownson, president California College.

Then there is a protest against the granting of a license to L. Wann at 1789 Grove street signed by the following: C. H. Mitchell, 597 Sycamore; David Crowley, Sycamore street; Dr. Wilson, 593 Sycamore; C. A. Littlefield, 581 Sycamore; G. G. Kennedy, 561 Sycamore; George Patterson, 695 Sycamore; Dr. A. H. Pratt, Grove street; A. G. Miller, 589 Sycamore; R. Shannon, 596 Sycamore; Craigie Sharp, 718 Sycamore; C. W. Kinsey, 578 Laurel; S. G. S. Dunbar, 43 Hawthorne avenue.

The reason for the protest is that it is in such close proximity to the Durant school. Accompanying the protest is a letter from R. Shannon, who wishes his name withdrawn from the protest and says he is in favor of the saloon.

John Gray also writes to say that he is not a property owner and knows nothing about the Trestle Glen saloon. He therefore wishes his name withdrawn from the protest.

OLD MAN CLARK.

Trial of the Third Charge Against Him in the Court.

The third case of William Clark, the old man from East Oakland, who is charged with assaulting some little girls, came up before Judge Ogden this morning. The panel of jurymen was called upon and the forenoon was occupied in selecting the twelve tried men and true.

The other cases against Clark have been lost, owing to a lack of reliable evidence and the unwillingness of some of the little girls to testify.

Clark is charged with improper treatment of children in his East Oakland home. On one occasion some neighbors, looking through the window, it is alleged, saw the man with the girls. The circumstances were such that the Grand Jury took up the matter and sent the old man to jail pending a trial on a felonious charge.

TO FIGHT THE WILL.

A Disinherited Son Not Pleased With What Was Left Him.

The will of the late James Cook of Alameda will be vigorously attacked by the son of the deceased, who has been cut off without a penny. The contest will be started soon and some interesting developments are anticipated.

James Cook was formerly City Marshal of Alameda. He died a short time ago, leaving an estate valued at $3,000, to a sister in the East, thus disinheriting the only child and legal heir. Prior to his death the deceased applied for a pension. This was granted, but none of the money reached Alameda until after the funeral. The question now arises as to whom the money belongs as no provision was made for its disposition in the will.

Judge John Ellsworth is the executor of the estate.

Alleged False Imprisonment.

The suit of Domingos Roch against Joe Smith, formerly a constable, came up for trial before Judge Ellsworth this morning. Roch was arrested by the defendant some time ago, charged with arson. He was acquitted and now seeks $2,000 damages for false imprisonment.

It is a striking testimony to the greatness of the late Lord Beaconsfield, that on the sixteenth anniversary of his death people throughout England should be found still wearing his favorite flower, the primrose. This demonstration, says the Desert News, goes to show that the people there have not forgotten the man who spent nearly half a century of his life in their service as a great political leader.

RACING MEN AT OUTS.

Trouble About the Extension of the Present Season.

THE INGLESIDE MEN OBJECT

No More Ladies' Days Will Be Given at the Track.

THE PLAN DID NOT PAY

A Steeple-Chase Course to Be Established at Ingleside.

There is the possibility of a wrangle between the racing association conducting the Ingleside and Oakland tracks and its development might prove serious enough to bring about an open rupture.

Soon after the old Bay District track was abolished in San Francisco the racing promoters split into two sections. One with Tom Williams at the head and Col Dan Burns, Gunst and Ache a sthe principal backers came to Oakland and established itself at the Emeryville track under the title of the California Jockey Club while the other consisting of Spreckels, Corrigan, Schrieber and other Eastern men plied at Ingleside, as the Pacific Coast Jockey Club.

There was never any open competition between the two organizations The men comprising the directorates were too shrewd to commit business suicide by trying to divide up the different racing stables that were headed for the coast They knew that the association offering the biggest purses would get the best horses and consequently the best racing and the most patronage and this, therefore, meant that they would have to bid against each other and probably pay ruinous figures Then again this sort of competition would divide the racing-inclined public and altogether the probabilities of an unsatisfactory nature were so many that competition was impossible

They therefore agreed on the basis that has been in vogue all the season. The jockey clubs alternated with two weeks racing each and in this way they have been able to offer a uniform rate of purses and average about the same amount of business Of course the huge investment of capital in the race track and its appointments has had to lay idle half the time on each side of the bay but this could not be helped.

The agreement entered into by the two clubs called for a termination of the season on May 15th. Under this arrangement there would be no more racing at Ingleside after this week and the coming two weeks at Oakland would wind up everything until the 15th of next October, when the new season starts up.

A petition has been in circulation though among the horsemen asking that the present season be extended for another month thus giving two weeks additional at Ingleside and two at Oakland. This is where the trouble comes in.

The managers of the Oakland track are not only willing to have the two extra week but are desirous of holding it In fact it was semi-officially announced that the racing would last at Oakland all through May and many have been figuring on that basis.

The Ingleside people though have now stepped in with a serious objection. They say that a continuation of the racing in Oakland will be a violation of the agreement even if the additional races are to come after the close of the season The Eastern racing men are in control of the Ingleside track and as they desire to get all the horses and bookmakers East as soon as possible they do not want them kept on the coast Corrigan for instance owns many shares in tracks at Chicago and other courses over the divide so he is not in favor of a scheme that would keep the betting men on the coast especially as during half the time proposed in the extension they will be in Oakland

Whether or not this difference of opinion will result in an actual outbreak between the two organizations is hard to say The chances are that it will not for in addition to the causes that induced them to compromise with each other before the season started is now the probability that Adolph Spreckels will start a new track. Just how they will dispose of the present grievances is not apparent, though and the next two weeks will be of unusual interest in racing circles for the matter must be decided one way or the other, during that time

A BLOW FOR LADIES.

There will be no more Ladies Days and the enormous throng that attended the customary Wednesday courtesy at Ingleside this week little thought that they were participating in the last event of the kind that will be held on the coast.

The Oakland track people never did give any Ladies Days anyhow and the Ingleside directors will abolish them with this season The idea of allowing the fair sex to enter free every Wednesday originated with Sam Leake who was secretary of the Ingleside track during the Spreckels administration He thought that such an arrangement would do much to popularize the track and furthermore would be a boon to the concessionaires.

Of the popularity of the move there can be no question. Every Wednesday has seen the grand stand at Ingleside packed and jammed with thousands of women and the boys who ply between the stand and the betting ring have been almost unable to handle the business That woman is a born gambler was proved long ago but only those who have been around race tracks know to what extremes they will go to tempt fortune at Ingleside Bets as high as $500 at a time have come from the woman's gallery and scarcely a feminine visitor young or old, came to the track on Wednesdays without making a wager of some description. In some cases, driven to desperation by losing, they have sent diamond rings and earnings to the book makers as pledges for their bets and once losers they would stay at the game even though they had to rob their houses of actual necessaries.

Now outside of the deplorable moral aspect of this sort of thing the Ladies Days at Ingleside have not been a success from a financial point of view as far as the Association has been concerned. The money spent by the free visitors all went to the bookmakers and concessionaires who thus revelled in the extra patronage bestowed upon them.

But the worst of it has been the actual loss sustained by the Association. There are between 300 and 400 daily female patrons of the track and as of course they went in free every Wednesday, it meant a loss that day of $300 or $400 Furthermore many women who would otherwise have gone to the track during the week and paid at the gates, waited until Wednesday so as to get in free and thus cut off another source of income

The Ingleside people would have revoked the Ladies Days immediately after the passing of the Spreckels administration but for the fear of hurting the popularity of the track at that time It was therefore decided to let the season run out on the old basis and abolish the privilege when the next year's racing begins.

A STEEPLE-CHASE COURSE.

Next season a novelty in racing in California will be given. The inner ground at the Ingleside track is to be converted into a steeple-chase course of the most approved plans.

There will be an up hill and down dale, real water jump, brush fences and all the other accessories of a cross-country ride. The lay of the land is admirably adapted for the purpose and a couple of thousand dollars spent in grading will be the principal expense.

A steeple-chase will be a great attraction. It furnishes the most exciting sport imaginable and as it is not so dangerous as hurdle-jumping on the flat will be all the more enjoyable. In England a "steeple" always constitutes one of the events of the season, and those who have witnessed the popularity of the sport there are confident that it will take a hold in California.

THE SUMMER SEASON.

The talk of a summer racing season here is dying out. Very little encouragement has been given to the project, and although San Rafael has been mentioned as a probable location for the track, there is no evidence of the plan being carried out. If an attempt should be made to do so the Oakland track people would start summer races so as to kill off the competition.

Dr. J. B. McIntosh Placed In Custody by Judge Cook.

A SENSATION AT FRESNO.

The Prisoner Is Well-Known as a Prominent Churchman.

SANDERS IS FOUND GUILTY.

This Now Implicates Him in the Murder of Wootten.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

FRESNO, April 30.—A sensation was sprung in the trial of Professor Sanders charged with forgery and suspected of the murder of William Wootten this morning by Judge Carroll Cook of San Francisco, who presided in Judge Webb's stead.

The Judge had instructed the jury and dismissed it.

Turning to the attorneys the Judge said: "I am satisfied one witness in the cause committed willful and corrupt perjury. I refer to Dr G. B McIntosh the expert on penmanship. I therefore order him in custody of the Sheriff with bonds at $5,000.

McIntosh was an expert in behalf of Sanders He is well-known throughout the State as an expert in hand writing also as a minister of the gospel and a school teacher.

The jury, after an hour's deliberation, returned a verdict of guilty.

Judge Cook will pass sentence today.

This is Sanders fourth trial

The first trial the jury disagreed on a question of expert testimony

The second trial the jury convicted after being out only forty minutes.

The verdict in this case was reversed by the Supreme Court.

In the third trial the jury disagreed, principally upon conflict of testimony and because of the failure to prove Wootten dead.

The verdict this morning implies Sanders guilt in the murder of Wootten.

CONE TO PIECES.

The Hungry Army Is Deserted by Its General, Leffingwell.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SACRAMENTO, April 30—The Bee this evening publishes special information from Yolo county to the effect that the Industrial Army recently shipped out of San Francisco, and which was induced a few days ago to march out of Sacramento, has gone to pieces.

Leffingwell, the leader, deserted the army yesterday afternoon and went to San Francisco.

Being without a determined leader and almost on the verge of starvation, the men remaining decided to disband and strike out for themselves.

Many of them have come back to Sacramento and are begging food from house to house, but as they have no organization they are not feared.

FOR PURE FOOD.

The Congress in San Francisco Gets Down to Business.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30—The California Pure Food Congress held its first session today with a large attendance of delegates from civic organizations and from interior towns of the State

J. W. Kerr, president of the Manufacturers' and Producers' Association, called the convention to order and introduced as president of the congress Julian Sontag

Speeches were made by Sontag and Mayor Phelan, after which the committees on credentials and organization got to work.

James W Kerr called the congress to order. In his opening statement he described the origin and progress of the pure food movement in California. He said that California could not depend upon soil or climate alone; the people must rely on themselves.

Egypt has all that could be asked for, in climate and soil, but presented a case of arrested development.

It remained to be seen whether California would be the Egypt of the North American continent or the banner State of the Union He recounted the history of the Manufacturers and Producers' Association, and said that the banding together of merchants to get lower freight rates, while the result might have been satisfactory to Eastern manufacturers, had left California worse off than before.

Idle artisans walked the streets, and farms were deserted and for sale. The Manufacturers' Association had in hand two great aims—one was to prevent the competition of convict made goods with free California labor, the second was to prevent the importation of adulterated food products

The first had not been prosecuted to its full extent, but the voice of indignation was rising and growing in intensity. The farmer—the producer—could not reach his full measure of prosperity while his products met with competition from adulterated goods.

He wished to dispute the statement that the Manufacturers and Producers' Association sought to erect a wall around California. That was not true.

But when convict made goods, when goods so adulterated that they could not be sold in the States where they had been made came into California, then the time had come to act. These goods threatened some of the broadest industries of California.

It was not sought to shut out honorable competition

The courts, the press, the pulpit had seen the situation and had acted favorably. They did not wish to have the prosperity of California arrested. It was hoped that this movement might be extended all over the State.

UGLY INDIANS.

A Brutal Murder Committed in the Grass Valley Country.

The Indian did not die instantly but lingered between life and death until this morning.

Seeing that the wounds would prove fatal the murderer and others left the dying man and squaw saying they would get a doctor.

Instead they made their escape and the officers in pursuit, have not yet succeeded in capturing them.

DARKTOWN AROUSED

A Coming Cake-Walk Stirs Up the Local Beaus.

BETTING IS VERY LIVELY.

Colored Circles Are Excited Over the Big Event.

There is great commotion in Darktown over the advent next week of the Primrose and West Minstrels for one of the principal feature of the entertainment consists of a cake-walk to be given each evening The entry list is open to all colored people, local talent preferred, and the trophy to be won, consists of a cake and a gold watch and chain.

Outside of the inducement of the prizes, there is a bitter feeling of rivalry spurring on the Athenian beaus The cake-walks held a year or so ago left some heart-burnings that have never yet died out for there are three men in the city, each of whom thinks the other two not in the same class with himself when it comes down to cake-walking.

One of these is Milt Johnson, who claims the title of champion cake-walker of the Pacific Coast, the distinction having been won at a free-for-all tournament a couple of years ago in the Mechanics' Pavilion, San Francisco In addition to his claim of possessing a finer suit of clothes than any other colored man in Oakland Milt is a vocalist and can also do a step or two if the occasion requires His poses during the walk are good enough to patent though it is needless to do that with them, for as Milt says, there is nobody else in this part of the world who can attempt one side of them Milt has a special interest in the approaching tournament, for he claims he was cheated out of the prize on the last occasion a walk was held here The event was at the Macdonough Theatre and the trophy went to George Hanifin. The second prize was awarded to Milt Johnson but he was mad and refused to take it.

George will be a candidate again this time for the honors and rewards He is not afraid of trying conclusions with Milt his old-time rival and has got some points from his sparring partner Lin Church that he thinks will prove effective

The third candidate, though, believes he has a walk-over, which would of course be appropriate to an event of the kind He is the great and only Majah Waters the dizzy Beau of the nineteenth century The Majah already wears the laurels of two cake walks, but he says he wants to be crowned with a tiara and if enterprise can secure it he will certainly win this time For the past week he has been putting in his spare hours with his old schoolmate, John Fernando Conners, who has been teaching him some steps that have never been seen before on any stage One consists of standing heel to heel and then bringing the right foot round the left leg back to a position at right angles with the fetlock joint. To do this trick requires elastic clothes for the Majah has to stretch his right leg about three feet longer than usual so as to wind it around his left extremity.

The Majah's make-up, too will be a joy forever His six feet four of humanity will be clad in a white suit, which will be fringed at the ends of the sleeves and trousers like a frontiersman's hunting shirt. Across the anterior amplitude of his nether garments will be painted a sunflower and in his shirt front he will wear the razzle-dazzle diamond for which he has a refusal of $11,000 A magnificent pearl discovered by him one night while eating oysters with his friend, Beau Conners, will decorate his shirt-collar and on his head he will wear a wreath of wild roses. The Majah has been warned to be careful about having such a resplendent make-up because eggs are only 10 cents a dozen and his white suit would be an easy mark, but he says death has no terrier for him and he will not even ask the management to let him appear behind a net.

The betting as to who will win the cake is very spirited in Darktown the quotations this afternoon being as follows:

Majah Waters—3 to 5¾ first, 2 to 9 straight or place, and 1 to 11, one, two three.

George Hanifin—8 to 7; 7 to 10; 3 to 11⅛.

Milt Johnson—11 to 6, 2 to 1, 1 to 1½

The biggest bet so far has been made by Jim, a Pullman porter on the overland. He bet 22 cents to 2 that the Majah would be inside the money

The three leading candidates are in hard training today and the night of the show the Majah will be on view to the public at the bootblack stand at Fourteenth and Broadway where he intends to have his face polished before going to the theater He will furnish his own blacking

THE TEACHERS' SALARIES.

Speculation as to Whether They Will Be Paid In Full.

The Matter Depends on the Amount of Taxes Collected.

Whether the public school teachers will receive their full yearly salary is now an open question The Board of Education has ordered the schools closed on May 28th, but this will not necessarily prevent the teachers getting pay

As there is a strong probability of a shortage, the Board decided to give the teachers a week longer vacation, so that if they are not paid they will not be compelled to work

Now all except the delinquent taxes have been paid and within a week the County Tax Collector will turn the money over to Treasurer Sanford The latter inclines to the opinion that the shortage will not be as great as believed, but nothing definite can be determined until the cash is counted and apportioned to the various funds

This will be done soon after the money is in the vaults and on these figures the teachers will be paid However, there are many delinquent assessments, which when received would even up matters were it not for the fact that the money will probably be paid in during the next fiscal year

The Board of Education will offer the teachers warrants for as much of the amount due them as the funds on hand will allow In return, the teachers will be compelled to receipt for a settlement of their account in full, as the Board cannot contract for more than the funds on hand for the present fiscal year will allow

It is then obvious that the delinquent tax receipts will be of no avail to the teachers though the money is certainly intended for them.

How to get around the matter has bothered the heads of the officials, but no avenue has opened up

A HEROIC DEED.

In Saving a Child's Life, John Ross May Lose His Own.

AN ACCIDENT IN ALAMEDA.

Badly Burned and Bearing a Can of Flaming Oil.

A RACE THROUGH A HOUSE.

The Danger Which a Little One Unconsciously Escaped.

The heroic act of John Ross, a house painter, will probably cost him his life. He has been engaged in painting the interior of a house on Encinal and Union avenues, Alameda and this noon was mixing a quantity of color with oil and turpentine At the same time he was enjoying his afternoon smoke and in some manner the light from his cigarette set the inflammable chemicals on fire.

A great burst of flame shot into the air, setting fire to his clothing and partially suffocating him. However, with great presence of mind, Ross foresaw the destruction of the house, if he did not get the can containing the flaming fluid out of the house He was then in the second story of the structure and though the heat blistered his hands he picked up the can, rushing with it down the stairs The flame played on his arms and clothing but the painter stoically stood the pain.

The following consequences might not have resulted were it not for a little child in the house The youngster was on the staircase playing with some toys directly in front of Ross as he was descending

The brave man at once grasped the situation and saw that if he tried to pass the little girl, the flames would surely communicate to her light dresses Ross hesitated a moment, then turned and laboriously retraced his footsteps up the stairs and through a room to a front window Bursting the pane he hurled the flaming can into the street and then fell to the floor, unconscious

Assistance was soon on hand and Ross' burning clothing was torn off Then the man was hurried to the Alameda Sanitarium, where he now lies between life and death His face arms and hands are horribly burned and it is feared he has inhaled the flames

He is 21 years of age and is a brother of Police Officer Keyes.

A Little Wreck on the Curve in the Southern Pacific Yards.

An Extra Crashes Into Them, but No Person Is Injured.

A platform car loaded with gravel was broken into splinters and two other cars similarly loaded were telescoped at noon today in the yards of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company at West Oakland.

The injured cars were standing on the track near the big curve in the yard and were out of the range of vision of Engineer Weil of locomotive No 1593 as he was pulling an extra freight into the inclosure

When he saw the cars, although he was running only at a low rate of speed, the engineer reversed his engine and succeeded in reducing the speed of the train

The momentum however, with which the locomotive struck the first car shattered the car completely, without, however, doing more injury to itself than the breaking of the cow-catcher No injury was sustained by the cars on the extra The wreck was cleared up in a short time and the truck was again open for business.

HOPELESSLY INSANE.

Ida E. Barnum Committed to the Asylum at Stockton.

Ida E. Barnum, the sister of Rev. O. S. Barnum, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Ukiah, was yesterday committed to the Stockton asylum by Judge Ogden. The girl with her mother lived at 566 Fifth street, while the brother was necessarily in Mendocino County with his flock.

The scene in court was decidedly dramatic. The girl admitted she intended to kill herself and declared she was being persecuted by her neighbors, who talked to her in whispers, even though at a great distance from her.

For a great many years the patient had always worn black and had kept herself locked up in her house, never making acquaintances and seldom permitting visitors to see her.

The girl cried pitifully while her brother and mother were giving their testimony.

She protested she was perfectly sane and said her examination had been arranged by her mother and brother, who wanted to get rid of her.

Mrs. Barnum stated her daughter had taken a violent dislike to her and had attempted to poison her. Several other witnesses corroborated these statements.

THE NOBLE RED MAN.

An Address by Judge J. M. Haven at the Outlook Club.

THE INDIAN'S CONDITION.

An Interesting Story of a Papoose of the Forest.

HOW TO RECLAIM THE SAVAGE.

Christianity Looked Upon as the Hope of the Poor Aborigine.

Judge J. M. Haven read an interesting paper last evening before the Outlook Club on the American Heathen. His theory was that the only way to treat the Indian question was through Christianity. Judge Haven read a story from Harper's Young People for 1896. The following are a few extracts from the story:

THE LITTLE PAPOOSE.

"I am a jolly little Indian papoose. I keep pretty close to my mother. She does not often like to face a responsibility of my size, but she will shoulder it any time and we are bound together by the strongest ties. When I am at home I live in a wigwam which mother and I built. We made it of poles covered with bark and skins. We built it together. Mother did the work, and I backed her up heavily, and between us both we pulled through without interrupting father, who was busy sitting around and basking in the sun and smoking. My father is bound to bask in all the sun there is, no matter how much time it takes to do it, and he is just as ambitious about the smoking; he is bound to do it all himself, and he does not want mother and me to meddle with it; and it is a good deal the same way with the eating. Nothing to eat—roots, berries, acorns, everything gives out. My father can shoot no squirrels, my mother can get no corn. Then we start for the Agency to get rations. It is a long tramp, but I don't mind it, for mother does the walking. We form a procession of two—a double header. Mother heads the front and I head the rear. As the column moves forward I go ahead backward, and I pass everything on the road that is not going my way. Of course, I can't see what I am coming to till I am going away from it.

THE GOVERNMENT.

"My people are pretty much like me. The old Mother Government straps them upon a board and shoulders them around from one place to another. If she hears them moan with hunger she feeds them; if she hears them shiver with cold, she blankets them; when they shriek and kick and rage, she beats them. She lets them live on the backside of somewhere till somebody else wants it, and then she bundles them off to the other side of nowhere which nobody wants.

"My people, like me, are going ahead backward. Once they had all America to hunt and fight in; now they have only a small portion of the land where they can stay. Ah! my people started in 'big Injun,' but they are coming out little papoose.

"White men who stay home and make boots say my people are dying out; but white men who look around and count say my people are living on, as many as ever. Oh! it is chaps like me that keep the Indian question going. There are thousands upon thousands upon thousands like me, bright-eyed, brown-skinned, lusty young braves, at this very minute cutting our eye-teeth on our knuckle-bones and toughening our lungs on young war-whoops, but we are always on the rear side and looking backward.

"They say there are white babies who are carried upon their mothers hearts and next to their cheeks; these babies are always looking forward, and everything starts small and grows large and comes toward them, and they can catch it if they want it.

"Oh! old Mother Government, take up my poor people and bear them upon thy heart! feed them with the milk of human kindness; give them justice, and teach them, by example, the law of love. Then shall my people lift up their heavy hands; they shall 'look forward, and not backward, up, and not down, and lend a hand.'"

AN EASTER LILY.

It came from Egypt and was as mysterious as that far-off land. Uncle Jack brought it when he came home in September. He said that it was an Arum or Calla lily and would bloom by Christmas.

When the many odd foreign gifts were unpacked, Uncle Jack began distributing, and the lily fell to Dorothy. She was very happy to be the owner of a plant that was arranged by nature to bloom at a certain time, and she tended it with great care and patience.

October went by, then November; December came, still no sign of a bud. Dorothy grew impatient. On Christmas eve she was watering the lily. Tears of vexation sprang to her eyes. Leaves stood out on it in luxurious abundance. They shook and quivered as the drops of water fell on them; they might have been saying, "We're glad! we're glad!"

Then the leaves were quiet. Maybe the plant was thinking. Christmas went by, the plant still sent out more leaves. March came; Lent began, and Dorothy's duties doubled. Still she tended the lily, and one day a shoot came up that was rounder than a leaf's stem and was lighter in color.

There was great rejoicing over the long, pearly stem that slowly pushed the bud higher and higher till it topped the leaves and gracefully curled itself into a flower.

Holy week saw it open fully, and on Good Friday it showed the golden stamen that threatened to shower its yellow glory over the beautiful white cup.

Dorothy's mother was glad to have her little daughter so interested and charmed. Dark days and hard times had come to Dorothy's father. Many a sacrifice was laid on each member of the little household, which each tried to bear so that no added burden should fall on the discouraged, overtaxed man.

Dorothy listened bravely when her little friends were talking of Easter gifts and Easter finery. She tried to keep in her heart the thought, "I have an Easter lily. I do not care for gifts or new clothes. I have been a good little girl during Lent, and my lily bloomed. That is enough for me."

On Good Friday morning, after service, the rector overtook them on their way home. He said he feared the Easter flowers were not to be as plentiful as usual. Hard times had come upon many members of the little congregation, and he was asking people to give what blossoms they could spare from their house plants.

"I always tell them, anything that is a flower will be welcome. Let every one do as he is disposed in his heart; not grudgingly nor of necessity; for God loveth a cheerful giver."

The mother looked down at Dorothy, wondering whether she would proffer her lily. No, she did not seem to understand that the rector meant her. So when they were safely home the mother said:

"Shall you send in your lily, Dorothy?"

"Why, no. Certainly not; It is only one flower. And it is all that I have. I must keep it!"

"Well, dear! If you feel in that way the gift would bring no blessing. The rector said something about cheerful giving, if you remember."

Dorothy looked sulky. She thought it very strange that she must give up everything, even her dear lily, when other girls had new dresses and hats. Why there was Flora Simpson—here Dorothy broke down and cried. She flew up to her room and sobbed out her trouble, till an angel came with a lovely thought to comfort her. When she came down stairs her face was shining and she was a cheery little Dorothy once more.

Next morning she snipt off her lovely lily and two great green leaves, folded them neatly in a white paper, on which she wrote: "This is only one lily, but it's all I have. It comes cheerfully from Dorothy."

Her mother looked on while Dorothy labored over her tiny note. There was a smile on her lip and a tear in her eye as the dear child started for the church. Sometimes mothers' smiles and tears are like prayers.

The ladies who were dressing the church were very quiet when Dorothy's gift was unfolded. One fair girl who always knew what to do on all occasions picked up the lily and its leaves, twisted a bit of ribbon about their stems and fastened it to the brazen beak of the eagle in front of the lectern.

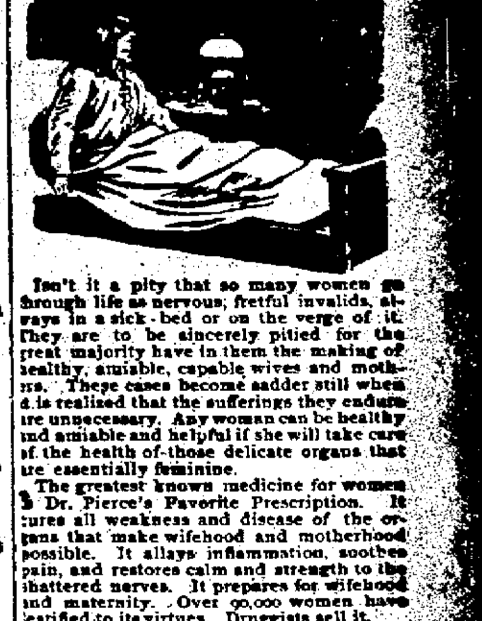
Dorothy waited no longer. She flew home with a happy beating heart. She had given up all. Yet she was glad! glad! glad!

And the fair girl at the church worked away with a will, unmindful of thorns or tough stems, making God's home more lovely with each effort, and brushing away drops from her cheeks that were not all "dew."

All people are not rewarded at once for good deeds. This time a little shower of good things was to fall on Dorothy's brown curly head.

Toward afternoon on Easter even, Mrs. Simpson, Flora's mother, wrote Dorothy's mother a little note and sent with it a great pasteboard box. The note said that Flora's grandmother had just died and her little girl would have to wear black dresses for many months. It said that as Dorothy and Flora were the same size, would she accept the litte Easter outfit and wear it for their sakes?

Dorothy's mamma cried a little, and so did Dorothy. It seemed hard that pleasure and sorrow must go hand in hand. Still, on Easter day, Dorothy looked brave and pretty in the plaid silk dress and feathered hat. She tried to think of other things, but was very conscious of all her fine clothes, until she raised her eyes to make the responses. All thought of herself fled then, for the chancel was like a sweet garden, the Lord's garden, and in front of all, its pure whiteness showing against the dark wood, was Dorothy's Easter lily.—Elvira Floyd Froemcke in the Delaware Churchman.



Isn't it a pity that so many women go through life as nervous, fretful invalids, always in a sick-bed or on the verge of it. They are to be sincerely pitied for the great majority have in them the making of healthy, amiable, capable wives and mothers. These cases become sadder still when it is realized that the sufferings they endure are unnecessary. Any woman can be healthy and amiable and helpful if she will take care of the health of those delicate organs that are essentially feminine.

The greatest known medicine for women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures all weakness and disease of the organs that make wifehood and motherhood possible. It allays inflammation, soothes pain, and restores calm and strength to the shattered nerves. It prepares for wifehood and maternity. Over 90,000 women have testified to its virtues. Druggists sell it.

"I commenced using your medicine three days after my child was born," writes Mrs. A. J. Bryant, of Wilbraham, Hampden Co., Mass. (care of Wesleyan Academy). "It was the fourth one, and I never got up so strong and well. I can do all my own work. I have recommended my friends to try the 'Favorite Prescription.'"

If somebody was offering to give away gold mines for the asking what a scrambling there would be! When a mine of health is offered there is some lively scrambling too. Over 680,000 people hurried to get Doctor Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser at $1.50 per copy. It has 1,008 pages with over 300 illustrations. Something over 90 of these pages relate to diseases peculiar to women. This book may now be had free. Send 21 one-cent stamps, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y., the cost of mailing only, and get the book in paper covers: or, send 31 cents for cloth binding.

There is an end to everything, but it has not yet been reached in the list of obscure statesmen who did get "yeoman service" for McKinley and who, tired waiting to be sought by the office, are now doing the seeking.

The Oakland court news furnish a good example of locking the stable door after the horse is gone. This is the item in question: "Nicholas Hennecker who lost $2,700 by bunco men exchanging a valise containing money for one freighted with lead, had a guardian appointed by Judge Ogden today."

The wonderful advance Los Angeles has made during the past few years is illustrated by the following dispatch received from there today: "The census of the city, though not completed, shows the population of Los Angeles has passed the 100,000 mark." This is an object lesson of what enterprise and public-spiritedness can do.

"The Christian Endeavorers of Fresno and others interested in Christian work held a mass meeting in the Presbyterian Church last evening to take steps "to make Fresno better," reads a report from that city of tragedies. Why did they neglect their duty for a whole generation, until Fresno is generally conceded to be past redemption?

Santa Rosa is not extending a very warm welcome to the Christian Endeavor delegates. The Republican says: "It is arranged to have three excursions at the close of the big convention of these people at San Francisco. One of these excursions is to come to Santa Rosa. Thus is our town highly favored. But what are we going to do with these people when they come?"

The Napa Journal man is evidently jealous of the Bee's notoriety. Nothing else could have prompted the following: "How much are the proprietors of the Sacramento Bee worth anyhow? They have had two libel suits on hand for several weeks, and now they have another. In each case $50,000 damages are prayed for, or a total of $150,000. Gee whiz! If we had enough to tempt anybody to sue us for that amount, we would retire and turn the journal over to the "devil."

It is very evident that a malignant form of spring fever is prevalent at Somerville. Somebody down there credits this for the Democrat: "Arrayed in all the blended enchantments of earth and sky, spring is again enthroned on the sunny hills of El Dorado. Dressed with all her budding and blooming glories, no Queen of Sheba or Los Angeles carnival ever rivaled the regal splendors of her primitive days. Her loving scepter is over us all, and we pay to her our undivided [illegible] some of thought should be copy-

THE CROPS ALL RIGHT.

The fears that the recent north winds would wreak vast damage to the crops may be dispelled. The State Agricultural Society, in view of the alarming reports regarding the situation, has collected bulletins from all over the State, and the result shows that the damage is not enough to cause any material change in the excellent prospects for the farmers this year.

The moist cooling winds of the past few days have done much to offset the hot wave that had been prevailing and the grain crop generally is said to be in first class condition. Rain would be welcome in all portions of the State, except where haying is in progress, but even if it does not come just now, the situation is not serious.

In Alameda County the Agricultural Society collected reports from Niles, San Leandro, Pleasanton and San Lorenzo. Niles stated that all fruits are growing well, apricots especially. But few scale are noted, the lady birds having done their work well. Vines are sprouting and hay is being cut.

San Leandro reported that the warm weather had advanced all the crops and Pleasanton that the fruit and grain looks well. At San Leandro it was stated that the cherries are not in as good shape as usual, but the apricots are fairly well.

In the great wheat belt of the San Joaquin there is not much complaint over the situation, for the month of May is always relied on as the best one for grain, while throughout the citrus districts the orange and lemon trees are said to be in a mass of bloom.

Those who were fearful, therefore, that disaster might come from the severe weather can now ease their minds in face of this unimpeachable showing. Instead of it being a bad outlook for the farmers, the indications are that the year will be one of great prosperity for the fruit and grain ranchers of California.

A TUNNEL OR BRIDGE?

The proposition to tunnel the estuary is taking a more tangible form than many ever expected it would. The report of the engineer at the meeting of the joint committee last night showed that the underground way can be constructed for about $175,000 so on the score of expense it has an advantage over the bridge system as beyond the first cost there would be no outlay for repairing, bridge-tending service and so forth.

That a tunnel would be immeasurably better than bridges, there can be no question, for apart from the greater safety for travelers it would leave the estuary harbor free from the impediments to navigation caused by the bridges. An easy grade, it is said, can be established for although the extreme depth would be more than sixty feet below tide water the approaches would be so gradual that a grade of five per cent would be the maximum required.

Whether or not the railroad people will assent to the proposed changes for their service is an unknown quantity. The chances are they will not and as they posses a right of way over the present route there is no way of compelling them to conform with the new project. However, the committee may succeed in placing the matter before them in such a favorable light that they will assent so the present agitation on the subject should be kept up until a decision is reached one way or the other.

England has evidently not been suffering from any hard times. In the House of Commons yesterday it was announced that the revenue for 1896-7 was $519,750,000, the expenditures $507,385,000 and the surplus $12,365,000. During the year the national debt was $27,420,000 and the total value of British trade $3,690,000,000, an increase of 5 per cent. The magnificent financiering of the British statesmen is shown by the fact that the revenues are steadily on the increase in every direction and the expenses on the decrease. Napoleon was right when he said the English were a nation of shop-keepers.

The Chronicle today devotes considerable space to "the Beau Brummel of the Prize Ring" who has just arrived in San Francisco and adorns the article with two large pictures of the celebrity, one showing him in all the gorgeousness that has gained for him the title of "Beau." The charm of the whole thing is lost, though, when one reads the interview with the gentleman. "Clothing is a good investment," he says. TOLD FOR WOMEN.

Mme. Adam, the prominent Parisian journalist, was driven into the work by the unhappiness of her first experience as a wife. Her parents married her when she was a girl of 15 to a notary in a provincial town. She left her husband, and, with the aid of George Sand, wrote herself into fame in Paris. Her second husband was a Senator and left her a fortune at his death. This enabled her to found La Nouvelle Revue and to establish the salon to which all the celebrities of the French capital crowd when she receives. There is a theater attached to her house, where clever amateurs are wont to present little plays on Sunday nights.

In trying to make a point against vegetarianism a member of the Ethnographical Society in Paris read a paper before that body a short time ago in which he insisted that cannibals are exceedingly strong and vigorous, far exceeding in strength those tribes not addicted to such food. He said that the savages who abstained from human food rarely ate meat of any kind and were a puny lot. The most curious part of his argument was that the flesh of women was much more digestible and far more nutritious than that of men; many tribes recognize the fact and eat only women until the supply gives out.

The bicycle wedding which recently electrified London, as the bride wore the regulation white satin and veil, has had a rival in the marriage of the young Parisian who went to the church in a carriage propelled by an electric motor. The woman who wants to make herself famous now seems to have little else left her than a balloon in which to tuck her happy lover, the minister and a couple of witnesses; there is no doubt that the fragrance of orange blossoms and the wisps of tulle floating back in the sunny air, as the novel nuptial car ascends, would bring about a fine degree of notoriety.

IN THE PUBLIC EYE.

An interesting contemporary portrait of Sir Thomas More, speaker of the House of Commons in 1523, has just been discovered in one of the rooms of the speaker's house. It has been carefully restored and forms a valuable addition to the unique gallery of portraits of speakers.

The bloodless but fiercely fought war that has been carried on for years between the wives of Senators and Cabinet officers for social supremacy in Washington is said to have been settled for this trip by the surrender of the Cabinet ladies. At this sacrifice is white-winged peace secured.

Rev. Newman Smyth of New Haven was asked recently by one of the leaders of the yellow journalism for a "bright, terse" interview "about hell" for the Sunday edition. Mr. Smyth covered himself with glory by answering: "Hell in my opinion, is the place where the Sunday edition of your paper should be published and circulated."

Mrs. Jane Powles, wife of Captain T. Y. Powles of the British ship James Kerr, is fully equal, her husband declares, to the task of sailing the great ship on which they live. So well equipped is she for the management of a ship, her husband has urged her to take out a "master's" certificate. She has carried second mate's papers for seven years.

Some days ago Senator Platt of New York, while passing out of the Senate, was struck on the head by one of the heavy mahogany doors and had his head badly cut. "How did you hurt your head, Senator?" asked a friend. "I was passing hurriedly out of a door," was the reply, "and I was struck by it. But it wasn't the White House door."

HE DREW THE LINE.

A Young Man's Interesting Courtship With a Southern Girl.

While some of the members of the local bar were entertaining an attorney from North Carolina, he told this among a good many other professional experiences:

"Though our mountain people are not educated, no Yankee can beat them in a dicker or go after a dollar with greater avidity. A rich young fellow from our place went up among them for a time to take on some health, and while there paid more attention than he really meant to one of the few beauties that live there. She was a creature of magnificent proportions, naturally brilliant and as relentless of purpose as any moonshiner that ever went after a revenue officer. She sought to recover $10,000 damages for breach of promise, and I had the young man's case.

"On the trial the girl made a star witness. When I asked her point blank if he had ever proposed to her, she replied that he had not, in so many words, but his every action, look, even his tones, was a proposal. She admitted that she had not gone into a decline because of his inconstancy, but graphically pictured months of agony, unrequited longing and wounded pride. It looked bad for us.

"At this stage of the case a lank six-footer from the mountains came up to me and whispered that he wanted to be called as my first witness. He sternly declined to answer questions till on the stand, but reckoned that his word was good that he would pull the young fellow through.

"All I ever asked him was his name, and you couldn't have stopped him with a gun. He was the girl's husband. He had married her a week after the young man left the mountains. He had consented to her bringing the suit in her maiden name and saying nothing about her being a wife. 'But if it's so,' he roared, 'that's she's been a-mournin' an' a-pinin' an a-dyin' afteh this heah dude critteh, I ask th' cowt fuh a divo'ce.'

"The girl rushed to his arms. She sobbed that she had never loved another. The case was won for me, but the young man never goes to the mountains or makes any miscellaneous bestowal of his affections."—Detroit Free Press.

WOMEN FOR CALIFORNIA.

Eight young women living in a little town in Massachusetts recently wrote to Governor Budd, asking him what their chances of obtaining employment in California would be. They say that they are all good sewers, have trades and can furnish the best of references. They desire to come to California in the hope of bettering themselves, trade in the East, they say, being very dull.

The Governor has referred the letter to Secretary Filcher of the State Board of Trade. What his reply will be does not yet appear, but it is pretty safe to say that he will not advise those Massachusetts young women, however industrious and well recommended they be, to come to California unless they have a certainty of employment here. It is true that there are in this State as good opportunities as can be found anywhere for young men and women to earn a decent livelihood. But the day is long past when Californians, happy and prosperous and proud of this great State, urge people of other States, who are not well supplied with means, to come out here and take chances of finding employment.

The State today has only too many residents who came here from the East relying on their energy and industry, but without means to subsist until those admirable qualities could find a suitable opportunity. When these unfortunates were in the East the very name "California" was to them the synonym of prosperity. They came here strangers, only to find that while the labor market may not be as badly crowded as it is in the older States, it is well supplied, and the newcomer is at a disadvantage.

People who come to this State without means may succeed—many have done so in the past—but, as conditions are today, it is safe to say that persons who reach California poor and conquer success could certainly do equally well had they remained at home, where they have friends and where they are perfectly familiar with the opportunities in the field of labor.—San Diego Union.

Composition Floors and Ceilings

In a new German process for fire-proof floors and ceilings, metal strips are laid on curved rods resting on the lower flanges of girders, and a layer of plaster, composed of gypsum mixed with sand, ashes or cinders, is applied to form the ceiling. The floor is supported by interlocking blocks of slag or by brick arches. The spaces between the floors and ceilings deaden sound and serve for the reception of tubes, telephone wires, etc.

A Call to Teachers.

Teachers who are members of the Pension Fund Association will meet Saturday, May 1st at 10 A. M. for the purpose of electing a committee on retirement. J. P. Gerlick, County Superintendent of Schools.

Growing Children

SOME CHILDREN grow very slowly; keep thin in flesh; are fretful; food does not do them much good. You can't say they have any disease, yet they never prosper. A slight cold, or some stomach or bowel trouble takes them away easily.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites is just the remedy for growing children. It gives sound flesh; makes strong bones, healthy nerves.

TO AVOID BRIDGES.

A Proposition to Build a Tunnel Under the Estuary.

MANY FAVOR THE PROJECT.

Some Reasons Why Bridges Should Not Be Used.

THE VIEWS OF THE COMMITTEE.

What It Would Cost to Build the Subway Now Suggested.

The committee from the Merchants' Exchange and the Board of Trade met last night in the Council Chamber and discussed matters relative to the estuary bridge. Messrs. Snow, Laymance, Gilson, Gler, Bridges and Sharp were present.

Lyman Bridges advocated the tunnel idea, which he declared could be carried out at a cost of $200,000. He offered the following resolutions, which with some amendments were adopted:

"Whereas, The two bridges across the estuary of San Antonio, or Oakland harbor, as it is now called, are an obstruction to navigation and a hindrance to the growth and prosperity of Alameda county and to the cities of Oakland and Alameda in particular; and

"Whereas, The United States Government has demanded that before July, 1898, there shall be not less than 150 feet clear on each side of the center piers of said bridges when the draws thereof are open, thus virtually compelling the removal of the present bridges; and

"Whereas, The conditions and circumstances in force at the time when the railroad bridge across the harbor at the foot of Alice street was permitted have so changed that there is no longer a necessity for any railroad bridge whatever across said Oakland harbor; and

"Whereas, There is no injustice to the railroad company in our urging the abandonment of their Alice street bridge; they using instead a third rail on their narrow gauge track on Pacific avenue to Park street, and using the narrow gauge pier for all Alameda traffic, with broad gauge trains on their Fruitvale route on Park street, adding also a third rail to the Webster street track and running trains thereon to the Oakland pier, using also a third rail on their broad gauge lines from Webster street on First street to their broad gauge pier, also extending the third rail from Webster street to Fruitvale, and by a shoot link of narrow gauge tracks from Fruitvale to Versailles avenue station on the S. P. C. R. R., or any other plan decided upon by the railroad company, to accomplish the same end; thereby giving both Alameda and Oakland better service and saving the cost of the construction of a bridge, and the cost of repairs, expenses of the operation thereof and the cost of inevitable accidents to life and property; and

"Whereas, A viaduct can be constructed on Broadway, commencing at the south side of Fourth street, continuing with open viaduct to Second street, thence by tunnel under the harbor to an equal length on the south side of said harbor, thence by open viaduct for a distance of 800 feet to the present grade, thereby giving an easy grade of five feet in each 100 feet of tunnel and viaduct, and a depth of more than sixty feet below tide water; therefore be it

"Resolved, That the interests of the citizens of Alameda county will be best served by the removal of the two bridges now crossing Oakland harbor.

"Resolved, That every effort should be put forth, especially by the citizens of Oakland and Alameda, to prevent any railroad or county bridge from being rebuilt across said harbor.

"Resolved, That we earnestly recommend to the Board of Supervisors of this county that they cause a tunnel and viaducts to be constructed under Oakland harbor at Broadway, issuing bonds therefor if necessary, said tunnel and viaducts to be used solely for wagon traffic, street railways and pedestrians."

It was decided to ask the co-operation of Alameda, and to this end resolutions were carried. They read:

"Whereas, The citizens of Alameda will derive an equal benefit from the tunnel under the harbor, and believing that they are very much interested in the plan set forth in resolutions passed by this committee; therefore be it

"Resolved, That the chairman and secretary of this committee invite the President of the Board of Trustees of Alameda to appoint a committee to meet with this committee at its next meeting."

The resolutions regarding the tunnel will be presented to the Supervisors at the next regular meeting.

GETTIN' RELIGION.

I ain't much on religion, nor prayer meeting beside;
I've never j'ined the church as yet, nor ain't been sanctified;
But a tender sort of feeling draws me nearer to the Skies,
Since I got a peep of heaven through a pair of trusting eyes.

No preacher's words could stir me up, in wrath an' fury hurled.
But lately I've been drifting nigher to the better land,
And the force that leads me upward is a little dimpled hand.

Seems like the bad thoughts sneak away with that wee chap hard by;
And cuss words that were handy once won't come when he is nigh.
Fact is, it sort o' shames me to see those clear blue eyes
Look at me (when I'm gettin' riled) in pity an' surprise.

I don't know much of heaven or angels an' such things;
But, somehow, when I picture 'em, it ain't with harps and wings,
But with yeller curls all tangled, and tender eyes that shine,
An' lips that's soft and loving, like that little chap of mine.

Then, when he folds his dimpled hands in his little bed at night,
An' whispers "Now I lay me," why, thar's something ails my sight,
An' my throat gits sort of husky when he blesses me, an' then
I'm dead sure I've got religion by the time he says "Amen!"

A DEBT OF HONOR.

The Pacific publishes the following tribute to Rev. J. K. McLean, D. D.

Oakland has honored itself this week in doing honor to Rev. J. K. McLean, D. D., president of the Pacific Theological Seminary. For twenty-five years Dr. McLean has been a resident of Oakland; for thirty-six years he has been an earnest, devoted minister of Jesus Christ. He has seen Oakland grow from a scattered suburban town of 15,000 people to an imperial city of 60,000. The First Church, under his wise leadership, has grown from 240 members to 1,182. In these twenty-five years five other Congregational Churches have been organized in Oakland, and all of them have found in the "Old First" a cherishing mother and in Dr. McLean a wise counselor and helper.

But Dr. McLean's ministry has not been confined to one city. The entire Pacific Coast has been his parish. From far and near struggling churches and perplexed pastors have turned to this Oakland Greatheart for counsel and help, and never in vain. He has been, in the true sense of that word, a Bishop—"not as being a lord over God's heritage," but as a fellow-worker, leader and helper of his brethren.

Dr. McLean's influence in educational interests has been far reaching and powerful. The public schools of this State owe much to him. Hopkins Academy (now Belmont School), Pacific University, Whitman College, Pomona College and the Pacific Theological Seminary, all have been borne upon his heart and felt the impulse of his friendship and helpfulness.

Dr. McLean's has been a fruitful, germinal ministry. He has done solid, substantial, abiding work. And the secret of his great success has been his own royal manhood. The transparent genuineness of the man has illumined his life, thrilled in his words and given power to his work.

The great concourse which gathered in the Oakland First Church last night was only a small fraction of those who honor Dr. McLean. The eloquent speeches only voiced what thousands on this coast feel towards this honored minister of Jesus Christ.

SEA GULL EGGS.

An Order From Washington Protects the Hens From the Birds.

The demand for eggs in the San Francisco market promises to be materially increased by an order just issued from Washington, putting a stop to the traffic in wild bird's eggs from the Farallone islands, just off the Golden Gate. The eggs of the sea gull and the murre, or guillemat, have been shipped to the market of San Francisco in great quantities since 1849. The birds were present in the breeding season, from May until August, on the island in such countless thousands that, although persistently robbed, their numbers seemed to show no appreciable diminution. Of recent years, however, naturalists have noticed the effect of the annual persecution of the vast colonies and have had fears that they might in time become extinct. As a result of the investigation, the prohibitive measure has been enacted. About 20,000 dozen bird's eggs have been sold each year at prices ranging from 15 to 25 cents per dozen.

A FINE ENTERTAINMENT.

Talented People Sang and Played With Organist Hunt.

A Programme Which Afforded an Evening of Great Pleasure.

One of the most successful concerts of the season was given last evening at Hamilton Hall, when the testimonial to H. O. Hunt, organist of St. John's Episcopal Church took place. The entertainment was interesting throughout and it demanded a larger audience than was present though the hall was comfortably filled.

Mr. Hunt again gave proof of the fact that he is master of the instrument over which he presides. He made the old pipes of the organ fairly talk and received well-merited applause for his efforts. The variety of expression and feeling thrown into the compositions, by the player was particularly noteworthy. A plaintive prayer and cradle-song, later gave way to the stirring cadence of martial music, while several selections from Wagner tested both the ability of the performer and the capacity of the organ. Mr. Hunt's final number, the "Festival March," was excellent. With the full play of the stops, an amazing volume of music poured forth from the pipes.

W. B. Hopkins, made a very favorable impression. He has a rich baritone voice and handles it well. He sang "The Holy City," "My Violets," "For All Eternity," and "Recompense." Three of the numbers have been heard repeatedly and the singer consequently threw himself open to suffer by comparison with the efforts of other vocalists. However, his execution and fine voice carried him through successfully. Rather than detracting from his rendition, the style of the others who have previously been heard in the same songs was placed under a shade.

Miss Jean Mary Hush, with her violin made another hit. The young lady has come rapidly to the front and her reception last night at once pronounced her a favorite. Nor did she disappoint the audience. Her numbers were very well executed and the enthusiastic demonstration of approval was well deserved.

Miss Bessie Lee Wall, sang several numbers. She has a light contralto voice, of limited range, but she pleased her hearers. The "Irish Folk Song," which has become so popular with vocalists of late, was one of her first numbers.

Few male quartettes have become as popular as the Reliance Club four. They sing together particularly well and their contribution to the programme was distinctive feature.

All of the numbers were encored and the participants were not backward in acceding to the demands of the audience. As a consequence the entertainment was considerably prolonged.

Taking it as a whole, the concert was one of the best given in Oakland for sometime and the variety of the numbers forbid any lack of interest.

A word must be said of the accompanist, Miss Constance Jordan. She added much to the value of the numbers by her careful work. In the "Irish Folk Song," her accompaniment could not have been improved upon.

SUTRO BATHS.

Tomorrow will be a gala day at Sutro Baths as the May Day festivities will be conducted on an elaborate scale. One thousand children will dance in a May pole dance. Games and other pastimes will be the afternoon's amusement. There will be a grand concert afternoon and evening.

Henry Butters' Lectures.

Henry A. Butters will lecture in the First Congregational Church on the evenings of May 13th and 20th, for the benefit of the Woman's Exchange and the Associated Charities. A meeting was held last night by the two organizations and the matter arranged. The following committee has the affair in charge: Mrs. W. E. Sharon, Mrs. F. W. Hall, Mrs. Helen L. Kelly and A. J. Ralston.

FOR MEMORIAL DAY.

Details of the Parade Are Gradually Being Arranged.

A Request Made That the Sailors Come From Mare Island.

It has been decided that there shall be four divisions in the Memorial Day parade.

The arrangements for the first division will be as follows:

Platoon of police, under Chief Lloyd.
Grand Marshal and aides.
United States troops, including a battery of artillery.
Fifth Regiment Band.
Battalion Fifth Regiment.
Grand Army Posts.
Sons of Veterans.

The line of march will be from lower Broadway, where the parade will form, up Broadway to Fourteenth, along to Grove, to San Pablo, where the militia will cross over to West Broadway and take the cars to the cemetery. The special feature of the ceremonies at Mountain View will be the acceptance by the Mayor in behalf of the city of the four cannons and 1,000 shells presented by the Government. The orator of the day will be G. W. Arbuckle. Mayor W. R. Thomas will also make an address. There will be appropriate singing, probably led by the Reliance Quartette. In the evening there will be exercises at the First Congregational Church. Chairman E. W. Woodward has secured General Chipman, the recently elected department commander of the G. A. R., to make the address. A pretty feature of the evening will be the forty-six little girls, placed in the form of a cross on the platform, and dressed to represent the States of the Union.

The Boys' Brigade and band; Patriarchs Militant, Knights of Pythias, Junior Order of American Mechanics, school children, League of the Cross Cadets, Clans McKay and MacDonald, Golden Rule Lodge, I. O. O. F., American Order United Workmen, will all participate, but their divisions have not yet been arranged.

Grand Marshal King has written to Senator Perkins requesting him to procure from the Secretary of the Navy a permit to allow the marines from Mare Island to participate in the parade. He has also invited General Forsyth of the regular army to be present on the day of the celebration. After the parade a lunch will be served to the United States troops at the Lyon Post headquarters in Loring Hall.

There will be a joint meeting of the committees tomorrow night in the Council Chambers, at which reports will be presented.

THE EFFECT OF A HYMN.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, April 30.—A song rendered by the choir in the church at Chicago avenue and Ada street two weeks ago was responsible for the capture of four members of the desperate Weir gang by the police last night. As the church was filled with the song, "Where is my wandering boy tonight?" Fred Drenkson, one of the members of the gang, bowed his head in sorrow. That song marked a turning point in the young man's life, and today he is a paroled prisoner, and, it is said, will be given his freedom for assisting in breaking up one of the most dangerous gangs of criminals that ever operated in this city. Property worth many thousands of dollars has been stolen, and the police have twenty-eight charges against the members of the gang.

Since January Detective Hamilton has been collecting evidence against the gang, and with the confession of Drenkson, which covered sixty-three type-written sheets of paper, the police say that they have the case complete. The four members arrested are Edward Ernst, Henry Weir, Mrs. Henry Weir and Charles Zimmerman, father of the woman. A large quantity of the stolen property was found at Weir's house.

CHILI'S CABINET.

The Downfall of the Present Ministry Seems Certain.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, April 30.—A special to the Herald from Valpariso, Chile, says: "There is still talk of a Cabinet crisis here. El Pervenir, the leading organ of the Clericals, insists that the resignation of the Minister of Justice, owing to his differences with President Errazuriz, is inevitable, and will probably be followed by the downfall of the present Ministry. The Liberal newspapers declare that the fears of a crisis are groundless.

"The feeling of uneasiness and distrust in Argentina owing to the outburst of friendliness between Brazil and Chile, is daily growing. The lack of reassurances to Argentina as to the real cause of the demonstrations is what has caused the uneasiness in that Republic."

STAGE ATTRACTIONS.

It is very evident that Primrose & West experienced none of the financial drawbacks and disastrous results last season which many travelling combinations experienced. It was the encouragement that their efforts were rewarded with, which induced them to make an extraordinary investment, the result of which is without doubt the greatest venture ever attempted in the minstrel line. Primrose & West's big minstrels who will appear at the Macdonough next Monday and Tuesday nights are composed of a combination of blacks and whites, each and every one an artist of unusual excellence. Two distinct organizations rolled into one make the most gigantic organization of minstrel talent ever heard or dreamed of. Three military bands, one a pickaninny band of unusual merit under the able directorship of a European conductor is an especial feature. All are uniformed in the most extravagant fashion. Two distinct first parts, concluding the most pronounced sensation ever introduced, are only a few of the features promised, and the promises of Primrose & West are always accepted with that degree of faith which means crowded houses everywhere.

A BERKELEY CLASSIC.

The value of this story does does not consist of what it says, but of the evident desire of the Berkeley editor who wrote it to avoid trouble:

Mrs. Morrissey, the proud possessor of the old gray goose which has figured so prominently in the county and local courts, repels indignantly the charge that her pet fowl has cost her as much money for litigation as the report indicated. She says she is out only $2 outside of her car fares, loss of time, and the "sitting" of eggs which the faithful bird was incubating in the natural way before being lodged in durance vile in Mrs. Cherry's back yard. It was the sovereign State of California that bore the court costs in the case, and if the State can't protect its honest daughters in their possession of an innocent sitting goose, the costs are deserved. Besides, the attorneys had nothing else to do at any rate and were only earning their wages.

Mrs. Morrissey also objects to being designated as "the defendant" in the suit for petit larceny, when she was the prosecuting witness. But really this error must be attributed to the compositor. The names Cherry and Morrissey look so much alike, are spelled so much alike, and sound so very much like each other, that the mistake might innocently be made by almost any compositor. It is to be hoped that this explanation is not only clear, but wholly satisfactory.

Success Crowns His Work.

Owing to the need of more spacious apartments Dr. A. T. Noe, the celebrated osteopath, has moved to 1055 Washington street. The osteopathic treatment has proved very successful with chronic diseases and especially in curvatures and dislocations. The system of treatment is based upon the theory that most chronic troubles arise from dislocations of some parts of the human anatomy. Without instruments Dr. Noe adjusts these irregularities and re-establishes the supply of blood and nerve force to the part effected.

BIG MEN'S SALARIES.

Various Items of Interest From the University Town.

BERKELEY, April 30.—Efforts are being made by members of the University factulty and their well-wishers to have a part of the new funds appropriated for raising the salaries of some of the professors. It is claimed that the Eastern colleges and Stanford are much more generous to their professors than California is, and the University has lost several of its leading lights on this account. Some of the heads of departments, and full professors receive less than assistants do at Stanford. President Kellogg receives $8,000 pear year as compared with $10,000 for President Jordan. Professors Bacon, Jones, Bradley, Paget and Magee are mentioned as some of those deserving an increase.

While the heads are seeking to increase their $6,000 per year the instructors are wondering how they can increase their $600 a year. The latter receiving only $50 a month, less than a country school ma'am, think themselves entitled to some consideration.

The physical and chemical departments in the University have issued bulletins announcing the opening of a summer school from June 17th to July 30th, principally for the benefit of teachers in secondary schools. The laboratory dues in physics will be $5 and in chemistry, $10, of which $7.50 will be retained, and the remainder, less any damage for broken apparatus, will be returned at the close of the course.

Professor Thomas R. Bacon, who is an ordained Congregational minister, as well as head of the University history department, has been selected to preach the baccalaureate sermon to the class of '97. The services will probably be held in Stiles Hall on May 9th. It is expected that the customary advice to the parting class will be well worth hearing, coming from such a man as Professor Bacon.

The Science Association of the University wil hold its last meeting of the term on May 4th. The annual election will be held. Prof. A. C. Lawson, president of the association, will read a paper on "The Flooding of the Golden Gate."

Students entering the colleges of mechanics, mining, or civil engineering hereafter must show qualifications in plane trignometry and free hand drawing.

The annual banquet of the Alumni Association of the University of California will be held on May 12th, the evening of commencement day, at the California Hotel in San Francisco.

The annual meeting and election of the Philosophical Union has been announced to take place on Friday evening, May 11th, probably in Stiles Hall.

The following officers have been elected by the Lorin Fire Company: President, E. G. Vail, vice-president, Fred Baiser; secretary, Joseph Stevens; treasurer, A. Vail; foreman, William Carey; assistant foreman, W. Prescott. A committee consisting of L. S. Rodgers, A. Boiser, was appointed to draw up a new set of by-laws for the company.

The Peralta Fire Company gave an entertainment and dance Wednesday evening in South Berkeley Hall. Arrangements were made by a committee consisting of Dr. W. O. O'Neill, H. L. Tisdale, A. F. Schod, Frank Fowden and E. J. Laugh.

A LEGAL HITCH.

The Constitutionality of the Annuity Law Is Questioned.

AUDITOR BRODERICK'S VIEW.

The District Attorney Has Not as Yet Examined the Enactment.

OPINION OF MR. M'CLYMONDS.

R. W. Snow Inclines to the Ideas of the San Francisco Official.

The question of the legality of the teachers' annuity act has been raised in San Francisco by Auditor Broderick, who declares it is unconstitutional

If his ideas are correct it will effect all the teachers in the State and as a consequence, the Oakland instructors have taken considerable interest in the matter.

The particular section over which the question was raised reads as follows

"All money, pay, compensation or salary forfeited or deducted from the warrant or demand for salary of any teacher or teachers, for and on account of absence from duty from any cause, shall be set apart, and one-half of same in consolidated cities and counties shall be paid monthly into the teachers' retirement fund"

Section 8 of the act is also believed to be unconstitutional, inasmuch as uniform legislation is impossible It provides that the teachers throughout the State shall be given a pension of $30 a month except in consolidated cities and counties, where they shall receive $50 monthly.

When asked his opinion of the matter today, District Attorney Snook declared that the question was a broad one which required a little study before an opinion could be reached. His office had not yet been called upon to look into the legality of the act and so the question had not been officially considered.

AUDITOR SNOW.

"I have expected this question to be brought up," said Auditor Snow when seen by a Tribune man. "The Legislature of 1895 passed a school teachers' annuity act which some of the teachers of Oakland attempted to have applied, but they became discouraged because of the ambiguity of certain sections of the act, notably section 6, where the county and City Treasurers were so badly mixed up that the section could not apply unless these offices were Siamese twins.

"Section 10 of the new law improves the situation somewhat, although Mr. Broderick seems to think it far from being clear.

"So far as the City Treasurer of Oakland is concerned, the law made it applicable only for teachers of the High School, because the primary and grammar schools, under decisions of the Supreme Court, are paid from State and county funds, and the City Auditor and Treasurer could not be called upon to consent or deny the application of teachers for benefit from the City Treasury. It is already admitted by High School teachers themselves that there is a question as to the application of this law of annuity to them and they have proposed to bring a friendly suit in some way, so that the matter might be tested I have concluded to help them in every way to bring the matter before the courts I have already determined not to divert any money from the Treasury to the Teachers Annuity and Retirement Fund Commission until the law is passed upon by the courts

"In view of the decisions of the Supreme Court of this State in which Boards of Education have been held to be officers of a school district and amenable solely to the general laws for school districts, tax-payers must not be surprised if it is discovered that monies in school funds are entirely under the control of Boards of Education, and no other officers of the city have any legal responsibility therefor, or right to dictate as to their expenditure.

PENSIONS.

"I believe the opinion is very general that pensions, whether paid to firemen, policemen or school teachers, should be provided altogether by the employes out of their monthly compensation received during active service, and set aside by them during such occupation the school district or city government having control of such fund as a guarantee of security. All such insurance against want should be under the control of the State and guaranteed by it.

City Superintendent of Schools McClymonds, when seen, said he had not heard the question of the act's legality raised.

"I do not believe," said he, "that Mr. Broderick's view or any action he might take would be final. Still it is a question that should be settled at once San Francisco and Oakland teachers are on a different footing in regard to the law. Over there the payment of a certain sum each month into the fund is obligatory; here it is optional with the teachers

"A great many teachers are very land 100 have already signified their inland 100 have already signed their intention of becoming eligible to the benefits of the law, that is, they have signified their willingness to contribute toward the fund"

BAYARD LIKES CLEVELAND.

The Ex-Ambassador Talks About the Lately Retired President.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, April 30.—A dispatch to the Journal from London says

Ex-Ambassador Bayard was much interested in the report of the Reform Club dinner in New York and the Ex-President's speech When asked for his views with regard to Mr Cleveland for President in 1900, he said

"I have not seen Mr. Cleveland for four years and as I expect to see him in a few weeks I will be able to answer the question better then.

"So far as my own preference goes, forever, and my regard for the welfare of the United States is concerned, I should rejoice to see Mr Cleveland in the Presidential chair. My personal regard for him leads me to hope, though, he will retire from public life.

"I believe that in the future the people will look back upon the four years of Mr. Cleveland's last administration as one of the momentous periods in our history and will realize that the part the President played during those four years was fraught with more of good to the country at large than that of any other of our chief executives. Mr. Cleveland is the logical leader of the Democracy and before the present administration is concluded I believe that almost the unanimous voice of the people will call upon him again to take the reins of the Government.

I am an older man than Mr. Cleveland and have been longer in public life, and my advice to any public servant who has borne so much more than his share of the people's burden and borne it with such magnificent courage and self sacrifice as Mr. Cleveland has, would be to lay it down when he can do so, as surely the part he has played will insure for him the everlasting gratitude of his countrymen Nevertheless, if, as is entirely probable, there should be no leaders so capable as Mr. Cleveland to take the helm in 1900, I would be one of the first to ask him to enter again upon the onerous task."

WALTER WILL COME HERE

Only a Difference Regarding Rent Now to Be Adjusted.

Every Indication That Oakland Will Shortly Secure the Orpheum.

The question of rental is all that now stands in the way of securing the Orpheum for Oakland Gustav Walter, the proprietor of the San Francisco establishment, is willing to locate here and is satisfied with the Smith property on Fourteenth street, across from the Macdonough Theater.

Concessions have been made on both sides during the past few days, and there is every indication that the deal will be accomplished If it goes through, Oakland will get one of the prettiest vaudeville houses on the Pacific Coast

Mr Walter intends, if he comes at all, to come to stay He wants a twenty years lease, and if he cannot get it he will be satisfied with one for ten years and the privilege of ten years more

All he will pay is ground rent The building will be his, and will cost about $40,000 It will necessarily be constructed of brick, on account of being in the fire limits. The plans include six suites of offices on the top floor, but this may be changed and the entire upstairs given to a gallery, thus making the building one for the theater only

Mr Walter says that if the deal goes through Oakland will be placed on the Orpheum circuit and will get all the big shows that come to his house in San Francisco The additional theater would greatly benefit his business, as the more opportunities he has to play his artistes the less becomes the percentage of the tax he has to meet of defraying their expenses to and from the East

The genuine Cracker Jack costs no more than the inferior imitations; therefor see that you get the package with the big K's on.

SPANISH LOSSES.

Insurgents Kill a Large Number in a Very Lively Engagement.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, April 30.—A dispatch to the Herald from Havana says

The engagement which the Spanish had with General Rodriguez in the Pugatory hills and which was reported as a decisive Spanish victory, turns out to have been the reverse. The Spanish columns encountered the insurgents and attacked sharply, relying on their superior forces The rebels retreated toward their camp and succeeded in playing their old trick of drawing the Spanish into an ambuscade

General Castillo arrived with reinforcements while Rodriguez was engaging the Spanish and fell on their flank The fighting lasted five hours and in killed, wounded and prisoners, the Spanish lost 280 men

News comes from Santiago de Cuba that 200 volunteers, headed by a priest and a prominent physician, have joined the insurgents because they were dissatisfied with the conduct of the Spanish authorities and believed that Garcia would succeed in maintaining his supremacy in the eastern province.

The situation at Banes continues to command attention Four cruisers and several gunboats have been ordered there to land a force to march on the port from the direction of Tolquin. The rebel force in and near Banes is estimated at 3,000

General Weyler came quietly back to Havana early yesterday morning, after a six weeks trip to Santa Clara, during which if he accomplished anything from a military standpoint, the fact has been most effectually concealed. It is now reported that he is going to Spain very soon but the report is probably due to the report that his son sails on April 30th It was reported last night that some insurgent chief of importance had passed into Pinar del Rio He is believed to have been Quintin Banderas, but the statement lacks confirmation

From Matanzas and other towns in Havana Santa Clara and Pinar del Rio comes news that starvation and disease are on the increase

A. AND P. FORECLOSURE.

Passes Into the Hands of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., April 30.—The foreclosure sale of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway Company will take place at Gallup, this county, on May 3, 1897 O N Marron, the special master, will officiate as auctioneer. CRIME MINUS FUNDS.

The Cinderella Company's Untoward Fate on the Road.

DESERTED BY A BACKER.

Poor Food and Sickness Added To Their Misery.

THREE LITTLE OAKLAND GIRLS.

A Sorrowful Tale Told by a Mother Attracted by the Footlights.

Among the members of the Cinderella company recently stranded at Salt Lake City were three little Oakland girls. They are the daughters of Mrs. A. Sawyer of Ninth and Webster streets, the eldest being not over twelve years of age.

One of the little ones, Flossie Sawyer, was taken sick on the trip and is yet somewhat indisposed. The other little thespians, however, do not seem disposed to look back upon their experience on the road with regret.

Mrs. Sawyer accompanied them and this morning told of their experiences.

On the guarantee of E. J. Holden that he had good backers Mrs. Sawyer closed up her dress-making parlors and taking her children, joined the Cinderella company.

The show made money while in California, though only promises rewarded the actors' efforts to obtain their salaries.

Several of the little ones were taken sick on the road owing to the poor food given them and the rapid jumps from town to town.

At Sacramento, Holden's backers withdrew, but of this Holden said nothing and billed the company to play at Denver.

In Denver business was very poor, the hotel fare worse, and salaries were not forthcoming.

If any money was made over and above expenses, Holden's whisky bill, it is said, absorbed it.

Finally the company reached Salt Lake City, and there it was that even traveling expenses could not be met. Mr. Burton, a banker of Salt Lake City, got up a benefit for the company and shipped the little ones home.

Said Mrs. Sawyer, "There is just $100 coming to me, but whether I shall get it or not is a question. Beside the loss of my dress-making trade, I have had to pay doctor's bills for my little girl. There were twenty-three in the company when we left Denver and none had received their salaries.

"Mr. Charles Agnus was backing Holden, and whether we can hold him for our salaries remains to be seen. He gave the company no notice of his withdrawal at Sacramento and we proceeded to Denver in good faith."

Mrs. Sawyer does not appear to be bitter toward anyone, but simply desires to get the money due her, if it is possible.

FRIEND FOR POSTMASTER.

It Is Said That He Has Been Slated for the Oakland Office.

A dispatch to the Call from Washington today says:

"W. H. Friend will be the next Postmaster of Oakland. He has been the chairman of the Alameda County Republican Committee, and Representative Hilborn has decided to appoint him.

"A week ago the Call printed an interview with Postmaster-General Gary, in which he said that the Representative in Congress would always be given the privilege of naming the postmasters in his district, and that where the Senator and Representative lived in the same city or town they were expected to reach a mutual agreement.

"This is exactly the case with Senator Perkins and Representative Hilborn. Both live in Oakland. Many of the Senators claim the right to name all of the Presidential Postmasters. Especially do they insist upon their right to appoint the Postmaster for their own city, but Mr. Perkins is disposed to be as liberal as possible, and he will acquiesce in Hilborn's selection of Friend, who will be nominated when the incumbent's term expires."

WHERE IS LENORA?

San Jose Is Seeking to Learn of the Whereabouts of a Character.

Chief of Police Lloyd has received a communication from Chief Glass of Los Angeles, asking for information concerning Lenora Stuart, who is under arrest in that city for shop-lifting. Incidentally the Chief mentions that the woman has nearly succeeded in bankrupting several Los Angeles establishments by her petit thefts.

Under the name of Emma De Lacy, alias Freeman, the woman was sentenced to eighteen months in San Quentin from this city in August 1895. She served a year of her sentence and was released. She was convicted of petit larceny and a long list of priors. The woman has achieved a reputation throughout the United States as a most daring and cunning operator in her particular line, and her photograph adorns the rogues' galleries in all the principal cities in the country. In her younger days she was beautiful and became known as a successful confidence woman. When her beauty began to fade she turned to shop-lifting.

SPACE WILL BE FREE.

Every Encouragement to the Annual Exposition Exhibitors.

Complete Arrangements Made to Ensure a Fine Fruit Display.

The exposition directors have begun work in earnest and from now till July 4th when the third annual show will open, the executive committee will be busy.

Messrs. Trowbridge, Gier and Spiers have been appointed an executive committee with full power to act, and let contracts and all the standing committees have been instructed to go ahead with their respective branches of the work.

It has been decided that no charge shall be made for space to exhibitors and this decision will, of course, cause a rush for choice stands so that applications will have to made early. The exposition will be confined to its original scope, which is, that nothing shall be exhibited but the products and manufactures of Alameda County.

A feature of this year's show will be a display of fine fruit. In the past all attempts to procure first-class fruit, or indeed fruit of any kind, has been a failure because the growers have not sent in exhibits. It has been decided to purchase the finest of fruit this year, and to have it renewed every day. This will insure the thousand Endeavorers who will be here an opportunity to see just what Alameda County can grow.

Superintendent Sharp in conjunction with the Finance Committee has been authorized to supply an assistant secretary whose duties are to commence as soon as appointed.

After the dog show at the Tabernacle which closes on the 12th of May, preparations will be at once begun, building the annexes and preparing the grounds for the third exposition.

ALAMEDA'S SONS.

The Alameda County delegation to the Grand Parlor of the Native Sons, returned last night, after an enjoyable visit to Redwood City.

The delegates are: Oakland Parlor, J. Cal Ewing, Herman Gard, Judge J. J. Allen, R. M. Fitzgerald and Rod. Church; Athens Parlor, Ben Woolner and W. Dean; Piedmont Parlor, Geo. De Gotia, Frank Barnet and Joseph Bouquet; Brooklyn Parlor, Ed. Reed and L. N. Cobbledick.

A meeting of the delegation was held yesterday before the election of State officers. R. M. Fitzgerald was elected chairman and J. Cal Ewing secretary. Ben Norris of Centerville was endorsed for Grand Inside Sentinel and later was elected to the office by the State parlor. J. J. Allen and L. N. Cobbledick were recommended for district deputies and their appointment will probably be made by State President Clark.

REMAINS IDENTIFIED.

The Deceased Was a Drug-Clerk From Across the Bay.

The remains of the man who was found dead beside a fence near the depot of the California and Nevada Railroad depot yesterday morning were identified by A. Redecker last evening as those of a man whose first name was Jacob. Mr. Redecker said the man had worked as a drug clerk for Redington Brothers, the wholesale druggists of San Francisco.

Mr. Redington telephoned over this morning that from the description he believed the man was Jacob Nagengast, who had been employed by the Redingtons for the last twenty years. He was about 60 years old and had no family nor relatives on this coast. Mr. Redington will send a man over to identify the remains, and Coroner Baldwin will then hold an inquest.

An autopsy by Drs. Buteau and Porter disclosed the fact that death was probably due to acute pneumonia.

WILL NOT CLOSE DOWN.

Local Insurance Association to Retain Its Office.

The local insurance association will not go out of existence on May 1st, as was anticipated some time ago. The members have decided to keep it open, although since the reorganization of the Pacific Coast union the field of the local operations has been somewhat confined. One duty of the local board will be to attend to the registration of agents in accordance with the new rule recently adopted by the union.

A Deputy.

Warren Simmons has been appointed a deputy constable by Constable Weldon.

Is It True?

Yes; it is true that nothing so rapidly builds up the system as a pure stimulant, if taken regularly. Thousands have testified to this fact and have unhesitatingly declared that has given them strength and energy when all else has failed. Experiments have proved it to be the safest and purest of all medicinal stimulants and the best thing for giving stimulative nourishment to those who are weak and run down. Taken at meal time it sharpens the appetite, aids digestion and increases the power to assimilate food. It soothes excited nerves, restores lost vitality and gives a feeling of renewed strength to every part of the body.

Ask your grocer or druggist for Duffy's and refuse to take anything else.

EASY TO MAKE NEW ROADS

Remarkable Work of the Great Kelley Street Roller.

It Is Pronounced a Success by a Large Number of People.

Because of want of space the Tribune merely mentioned the fact that the new roller was started yesterday.

After watching the process of spiking and rolling the block on Twelfth street the spectators were convinced that the old Board of Public Works made no mistake in procuring this machine for the city.

The Mayors of the various cities who wired the Board on the subject knew what they meant when they recommended this particular machine so highly.

It is a model of mechanism, and while it has the appearance of a ponderous piece of machinery, its designer had an eye to proportions, and many who witnessed its operations yesterday and today recognized in it the same machine which was so conspicuous on the World's Fair grounds, as the many beautiful drives there were made by this same make of roller. Even with its immense weight, it is as easily handled as a three-wheeled bicycle.

Yesterday morning saw Twelfth street, north of the High School, surpassed in roughness only by Clay street, and by night it was as smooth as any street in the city and this transformation was achieved at a cost of less than 1 cent a foot.

J. H. Maggard, the representative of the Kelly Company, says that any street in the city could be put in equally as good condition if there is any material or foundation to work on.

The opinion of every one was that the city had made a good selection with this machine and the excellent quality of stone so near the city, there is no reason why Oakland should not have the best streets of any city on the coast.

The crowd that witnessed the testing of the roller yesterday was composed of a number of the leading business men of the city. Most of the Council was present, as was also the members of the new and old Board of Public Works.

The work was done under the supervision of Superintendent of Streets Miller and City Engineer Clement. Every one seemed highly pleased with the results of the experiments. The new roller will be a great addition to the apparatus in the Street Department, and will enable the streets to be kept in repair according to the new specifications which will soon be adopted.

AN OLD SUIT SETTLED.

Judge Ellsworth Dismisses a Suit Affecting Much Property.

Judge Ellsworth yesterday disposed of a case which has been in court ever since 1882. It was an action started by the late Henry F. Irving, who joined about fifty defendants in the suit. He wanted to recover the ownership of a large tract of land between Telegraph avenue and Linden street and the northern boundary of the city and the water front. This was claimed by virtue of deed claimed to have been given the plaintiff by the Peraltas.

The land in question is some of the most valuable in the city, taking in beside much business property, the places of Frederick Delger, the late A. J. Snyder and a number of other large land owners.

The suit was started on February 9, 1882, and summons were issued to all the defendants. Whether these were ever served is not known. At all events, nothing was heard from them and none of the defendants put in an appearance.

After the case had dragged along in court for a few years, the plaintiff died, but the executor of his will, William Matthews was empowered to press the suit. This he failed to do.

Today Judge Ellsworth dismissed the case on the ground that the failure to return the summons was legally conclusive of the fact that the defendants had never been served.

POLICE COURT CASES.

The Lottery Charges Against Chinamen Have Been Dismissed

The fifteen lottery cases which are before the Police Court have been continued till May 7th, when they will be formally dismissed on motion of the Prosecuting Attorney.

This will be done on account of a recent Superior Court decision which holds that an interpreter cannot give expert testimony in identifying lottery tickets.

Fred Kent, who generally attracts a large crowd on Broadway by his queer actions while intoxicated, is in jail again after a couple of weeks' total abstinence. He was sentenced to five days in jail.

The police report the finding of a buggy robe at Twelfth and Broadway this morning.

Sophia Fisher, charged with knocking down Jose Castro, a waiter employed in her husband's restaurant, with a hot plate, has pleaded not guilty to the charge. The case will come up May 12th.

Dr. A. E. Larkey has filed plans for the plumbing of a new home which he will erect at Twenty-second and Webster streets. It will be two stories.

AROUND THE FESTAL BOARD

A Social Evening Spent by Presbyterians Across the Bay.

Several Well-Known Oakland People Among the Throng.

The anniversary banquet in honor of the quarter centennial of the San Francisco Theological Seminary was held at the Occidental Hotel, San Francisco, last evening. About one hundred and fifty Presbyterian divines and elders with their wives were present. Among those from this side of the bay were: Rev. Robert Coyle and wife, D. Edward Collins and wife, Rev. S. Palmer and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, E. Fish, Rev. F. S. Brush and J. Bordwell of Alameda, Rev. J. Ferry and Mr. Gilbertson of San Leandro, Rev. James Curry of Temescal, Rev. Mr. Warren of Berkeley and George Lyons of Haywards.

The banquet opened at 8 o'clock. The tables were arranged in rows and were prettily decorated with roses, smilax and candle labra.

D. E. Collins responded to the toast, "The Need of the Presbyterian Type on the Pacific Coast." He sketched the growth of the Presbyterian spirit from the time of the Reformation and concluded thus: "Out of these times where the just, but merciless demand was an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth, grew the Presbyterian faith. The Presbyterian Church calls for reverence and obedience as the first requisite of a staunch faith, on this coast, if at any time, the present calls for this spirit. Everything here seems to seek a deadly democratic level of the worst character. The cosmopolitan nature of our inhabitants demands something that may create reverence and respect."

Dr. Coyle was called upon to speak on "The Spirit of the Covenanters." The time remaining was so short as to necessitate a condensation of his remarks. Dr. Coyle told the story of the man who buried seven wives and in order to save time and expense placed a single monument over the graves, consisting of a hand pointed to Heaven with the words, "Seven Up." He spoke in glowing terms of the spirit that had moved the convenanters, declaring that they were men of convictions and not men of mere opinions; men of conquest, who never hesitated. "The old convenanter never said 'probably,' he never questioned but drove ahead. And his faith was backed by unwavering courage." The speaker called up numerous instances in history to prove the existence of this spirit in the covenantes, citing the cases of John Knox and Dr. Chalmers. They were the lovers and promoters of liberty in church and state. Macaulay paid them high tribute as such, and some of the signers of the Declaration of Independence were the lineal descendants of John Knox. He expressed great admiration for the Scottish race, claiming that their greatness as a race of thinkers was due to the early spirit inculcated by the convenanters.

"We need more of this spirit right here on this coast today," concluded Dr. Coyle, "we need it to eliminate the weak-kneed and half-hearted from our pulpits and professors chairs. And finally we need it to uphold the word of God and to vouch for its truth from cover to cover."

The banquet closed with a benediction by Rev. Mackenzie of San Francisco.

NOT READY TO ACT.

Progress of the Negotiations With the Valley Road Directors.

The Local Committee Has a Letter Which May Not Be Published.

A reply has been received from the Valley Railroad Directors but it contains nothing definite.

The letter, which E. A. Heron, chairman of the Special Committee says cannot be made public, contains an intimation that the railroad has not yet reached that point in its plans, where it can with judiciousness make public what it desires from Oakland in the matter of a terminus or right of way.

The Valley Directors have conveyed their opinion that the negotiations must necessarily be private for sometime and the local committee feel certain that the Valley Road will not be in a position to give a definite statement for several weeks. The Directors are now engaged in negotiations that are not far enough advanced to admit of a discussion of them.

RUZI'S DEATH.

Colonel Calhoun Will Aid in Having It Inquired Into.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

DANVILLE, Ill., April 30.—Colonel W. J. Calhoun, who has accepted the mission to Cuba to assist in the hearing of the Ruiz case, will leave Danville for Cuba on next Sunday or Monday. He goes first to Washington to receive his instructions from the Department of State.

Colonel Calhoun declined to discuss the subject of his mission, because he thinks it would be highly improper for him to do so. He had had no conference with the Secretary of State or other officials on the matter. He says he understands the purpose of the mission is to assist as legal counsel Consul-General Lee in an investigation into the cause of and circumstances attending the death of Dr. Ruiz, an American citizen, who was found dead in one of the Cuban prisons. It is not expected that the investigation will take very long, and he expects to return home some time during May.

It is believed here that Judge Day of Canton, who was first slated for the position, strongly recommended that the President appoint Mr. Calhoun.

PROTEST AGAINST SALOONS

The License Committee Will Consider the Subject Tonight.

Opposition to Permits to Sell Raised in Many Places.

The Municipal License Committee of the City Council will hold a meeting this evening and there promises to be a lively time in regard to the Twenty-third avenue liquor licenses and the licensing of a saloon at Trestle Glen, and one near the Durant school on Grove street. Several petitions have come in and the fight of two years ago will likely be repeated.

Another fight will probably be on the license of William Reichhold at 413 Fourteenth street across from the Macdonough Theater. Claus Weinert and W. Lebrecht are on his bond. The place was refused a license by the old Council on account of a protest from the congregation of the First Presbyterian Church.

A petition protesting against any license being issued in the Twenty-third avenue district, east of Nineteenth avenue, is signed by T. H. Cruff, 1520 Twenty-third avenue; C. Chister, 1170 Twenty-first street; J. W. McKay, 1053 East Sixteenth; H. Pascoe, 1132 East Seventeenth; G. S. Prolser, 1357 Twenty-third avenue; E. B. Jackson, 994 East Twenty-second street; W. I. Haas, 1357 Twenty-third avenue; W. H. Latourette; G. E. Sanders, 1765 Twenty-first avenue; A. L. Whitney, 1173 Monroe; C. F. Hamlin, 1008 Twenty-second; F. M. Fozier, 1264 Twenty-fourth avenue; R. Whitaker, 1264 Twenty-fourth avenue; R. Hassard, 1251 Twenty-fifth avenue.

The protest against licensing a saloon at Trestle Glen is signed by the following: S. B. Mone, Thirtieth and Union; S. B. Randall, California College; J. H. Wyman, 881 East Thirty-second; J. T. Cross, 614 East Twenty-eighth; G. W. Reynolds, 1910 Thirteenth avenue; D. Richardson; John Gray, 669 Thirty-second street; F. V. Humphrey, 655 Grant street; F. W. Humphrey, 655 Grant; F. J. Farnham, 674 Grant; E. L. Stewart, 672 East Thirty-fourth; J. Calvin, 672 East Thirty-fourth; T. G. Brownson, California College; Smallman and Canning; C. W. Dearborn; M. Satzer; G. Nelson, 737 Montgomery street; F. Silby, 727 Montgomery street; T. J. Abbott, Thirty-second street; G. W. Disher, 2118 Summit street; T. H. Deasey, 674 East Thirty-second street; H. T. Walt, 1618 Eleventh avenue; P. A. Deasy, 4 Athol avenue; P. J. Dempsey, A. A. Deasy, 4 Athol avenue; M. W. Wood; William Cron, Jr.; B. H. Griffins, 145 Athol avenue; William Davis, Bay View avenue; R. H. Chamberlain, 41 Bella Vista avenue; C. W. Carruth, 1814 Thirteenth avenue; J. Stewart; D. C. Roberts, 1920 Thirteenth avenue; J. J. Hannan, 2070 Thirteenth avenue; F. M. Smith, Seventh avenue and Twenty-fourth street; G. W. Nixon; F. P. Thwaits; J. H. Hampel; J. C. Westphal, King street; J. Benson, G. T. Allender; E. E. Dunning, Trestle Glen; R. J. Mould, Lewis avenue; J. M. Robinson, 56 King avenue; A. C. Hussey, Prospect street; A. G. Briggs, Lewis avenue; O. G. Day, Fifth avenue; S. F. Burbank, Sixth avenue; A. Welch, 1383 Fifth avenue; John Yule, C. D. Hayes, Brooklyn avenue; J. F. Burris, Prospect avenue; C. W. Carmany, Thirteenth avenue; O. M. Vesper, 1453 Tenth avenue; C. E. Cornell, 35 Bella Vista avenue; T. G. Brownson, president California College.

Then there is a protest against the granting of a license to L. Wanu at 1789 Grove street signed by the following: C. H. Mitchell, 527 Sycamore; David Crowley, Sycamore street; Dr. Witson, 593 Sycamore; C. A. Littlefield, 591 Sycamore; G. G. Kennedy, 541 Sycamore; George Patterson, 615 Sycamore; Dr. A. H. Pratt, Grove street; A. G. Miller, 539 Sycamore; R. Shannon, 596 Sycamore; Craigie Sharp, 718 Sycamore; C. W. Kinsey, 578 Laurel; S. G. S. Dunbar, 43 Hawthorne avenue.

The reason for the protest is that it is in such close proximity to the Durant school. Accompanying the protest is a letter from R. Shannon, who wishes his name withdrawn from the protest and says he is in favor of the saloon.

John Gray also writes to say that he is not a property owner and knows nothing about the Trestle Glen saloon. He therefore wishes his name withdrawn from the protest.

OLD MAN CLARK.

Trial of the Third Charge Against Him in the Court.

The third case of William Clark, the old man from East Oakland, who is charged with assaulting some little girls, came up before Judge Ogden this morning. The panel of jurymen was called upon and the forenoon was occupied in selecting the twelve tried men and true.

The other cases against Clark have been lost, owing to a lack of reliable evidence and the unwillingness of some of the little girls to testify.

Clark is charged with improper treatmen of children in his East Oakland home. On one occasion some neighbors, looking through the window, it is alleged, saw the man with the girls. The circumstances were such that the Grand Jury took up the matter and sent the old man to jail pending a trial on a felonious charge.

TO FIGHT THE WILL.

The will of the late James Cook of Alameda will be vigorously attacked by the son of the deceased, who has been cut off without a penny. The contest will be started soon and some interesting developments are anticipated.

James Cook was formerly City Marshal of Alameda. He died a short time ago, leaving an estate valued at $3,000, to a sister in the East, thus disinheriting the only child and legal heir. Prior to his death the deceased applied for a pension. This was granted, but none of the money reached Alameda until after the funeral. The question now arises as to whom the money belongs as no provision was made for its disposition in the will.

Alleged False Imprisonment.

The suit of Domingo Roch against Joe Smith, formerly a constable, came up for trial before Judge Ellsworth this morning. Roch was arrested by the defendant some time ago, charged with arson. He was acquitted and now seeks $2,000 damages for false imprisonment.

It is a striking testimony to the greatness of the late Lord Beaconsfield, that on the sixteenth anniversary of his death people throughout England should be found still wearing his favorite flower, the primrose. This demonstration, says the Desert News, goes to show that the people there have not forgotten the man who spent nearly half a century of his life in their service as a great political leader.

We are offering an immense line of summer shoes, in black and in tans, at very low prices, in many cases at one-half the prices at which the same shoes were sold last season and in some cases below the cost of manufacture.

We bought very heavily during the late business depression and at prices which enables us to sell shoes, of standard quality, much below their value.
